

New Grip On Union By Hoffa

Chief's Salary Up To $70,000 a Year; Dues Increase Too

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A dues increase and broad new powers today helped James R. Hoffa consolidate control over the Teamsters Union.

Hoffa dealt his minority opposition a series of smashing setbacks attempting to block his way to a new five-year term as union president.

Hoffa scored his biggest triumph on winning convention approval of a yearly $12 million dues increase at a grueling all-day and night session of a special Teamsters convention.

Hoffa gavelled through the convention an easy boost in his own salary from $50,000 to $70,000 a year. It made him the highest paid union official in the land. But he said he deserved it because he presided over the biggest U.S. labor organization.

The dues increase over delegate protests would boost Hoffa's headquarters revenue to about $20 million a year. It would raise member dues requirements by $1 per member per month.

Milton J. Liss, president of the Newark, N.J. Local 478 and Hoffa's only opponent for reelection, lost a series of convention floor battles to limit his program.

Liss and others argued that the dues hike and other Hoffa proposals would limit local union autonomy and right to serve in union office and as convention delegates.

The convention shoved through new provisions to limit rank and file members to hold union office and to attend future conventions. These new rules, adopted by the convention, require that candidates for national union office serve at least two years in local office and that local officials must attend at least 50 per cent of local union meetings.

Hoffa obviously was in full charge of the 2,000 delegates as he called for decisions on a series of proposals that would build his union power.

Among other changes overwhelmingly approved by the delegates was an extension of jurisdiction to cover all workers in all industries regardless of work claims made by other unions.

President Joseph Curran of the National Maritime Union, a leader in the recent shipping strike, spoke to the convention and urged a quick realization of a land, sea and air union combine.

North Korea Signs a Pact With Soviets

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev announced today the Soviet Union and North Korea have signed a mutual defense pact to counter a growing threat of aggression by South Korea.

He said the recent coup in Seoul established a "regime of open military-Fascist dictatorship." "The threat from the military-Fascist clique is growing. It is known that this clique has an army of 600,000 equipped with American weapons," Khrushchev added.

"We consider it our duty to warn the aggressive forces that if an attack is made on the Korean Democratic Republic, then the Soviet Union will look upon this attack as an attack upon itself." Khrushchev made the announcement at a Soviet-Korean friendship meeting in Moscow.

Publication of the pact, seemingly means that the U.S.S.R. is openly replacing Communist China as North Korea's chief protector. It was Communist Chinese "volunteers" who intervened in the Korean War. The Soviet Union always claimed it took no part in that fighting, although Soviet-built MIG fighter planes and other weapons were used on the Communist side.

Lightning Strikes Home On East 20th

Heavy damage apparently occurred to a house at 1100 East 20th, when it was struck by lightning at 1:45 a.m. Thursday, according to the police report. The gas and electric service for the building is listed to Ina Atwell, according to the Missouri Public Service Co., which investigated the incident. There were no apparent injuries.

Wind Storm Over State Last Night

Tree Limbs Down, Streets Flooded, Services Go Out

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Rain and wind caused extensive damage in north central and northwest Missouri Wednesday night.

The gusty, rainy squall line scattered tree limbs, flattened signs, knocked out telephone and electric service, and flood streets and basements.

Two inches of rain fell in an hour at Chillicothe. Three inches was common along the fast-moving storm front.

In Kansas City, power lines were down throughout the metropolitan area. Several neighborhoods were blacked out. At the Osteopathic Hospital, lightening struck a transformer and an elevator operator was stranded between floors until rescued.

A falling tree limb smashed the windshield of a car driven by Edgar Jones (5643 East Twenty-eighth Street). A passenger, Mary Wigle, 6, (4044 Harrison Street) suffered a bruised forehead when Jones applied his brakes.

Stalled cars blocked traffic in every part of the city. Many motorists sat out the downpour rather than face a wetting. Underpasses filled with runoff. Traffic lights went out. There were a rash of minor accidents.

Kansas City, Kan., police said they had reports of parked cars floating down curb-full streets. In one low spot, near Fifth Street and Elizabeth Avenue in Kansas City, Kan., water entered homes and floated mattresses off beds during a flash flood. The high water drained off in a few minutes.

In the 4100 block on Olive Street in Kansas City, Mo., the force of water in a sewer thrust a manhole cover in the air. Residents replaced it.

Radio Station KBEA, in the Kansas City suburb of Mission, Kan., was knocked off the air during Wednesday night's storm. Because of the power failure the station was still out of service at 10 a.m. today.

Rainfall reports for the 24 hours up to 6 a.m. today included: Grandview 4.77 inches, Kansas City 4.22, Boonville 3.80, St. Joseph 3.78, Sedalia 3.10, Brookfield 2.56.

The rains pushed temperatures down over the state, but the Weather Bureau said it will be warmer again Friday. The mercury touched 96 at St. Joseph Wednesday and 94 at Sedalia and Cape Girardeau.

All At Once

We may complain about the hot weather, but certainly we won't be able to gripe about the total rainfall for July, if we don't get any more all month.

Cloudy tonight with a period or two of showers and thundershowers; partial clearing Friday and a little warmer; low tonight in the 60s; high Friday in the mid 80s.

The temperature Thursday was 68 at 7 a.m. and 81 at 1 p.m. Low Wednesday night was 66, with 3.10 inches of rainfall.

The temperature one year ago today was, high 83, low 58; two years ago, high 91; low 63; three years ago, high 84; low 65.

Lake of Ozark stage: 59.1 feet; 9 below full reservoir; no change.

Luther Wright Jr. To Police Post

Luther J. Wright, Jr., has been employed by the city of Sedalia, as a member of the parking meter department. Wright replaces Larry Gardner, who resigned. Wright assumed his new job Thursday morning.

Ex-premiers Are Reported Under Arrest

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's two ousted premiers, John M. Chang and Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, have been arrested with several former government and military officials, competent sources said today.

The ruling military junta refused comment on the reports.

Chang, the elected premier ousted in the May 16 military coup, was reported by informants to have been taken from his home Wednesday to Mapo Prison. He had been under house arrest since the coup. Six of Chang's Democratic party ministers also were said to have been taken from their homes, where they had been under detention, to the same prison.

Other reports said Brig. Gen. Song Chan-ho, Col. Park Chih-oh, Lt. Col. Kim Jei-min, three junta members forced to resign Monday, also were jailed.

Chang Do-young disappeared after he was ousted Monday by Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-hi, new chairman of the junta's ruling Supreme Council.

Jobs Increase, But Unemployed Ranks Rise Also

WASHINGTON (AP)—More Americans held down jobs last month than ever before. And yet, unemployment increased.

With school closing, teen-agers began hunting either permanent work or summer jobs. The Labor Department counts them in the labor force, which is the number of people working plus those looking for jobs.

So, while employment increased 1.9 million from mid-May to an all-time high of 68,706,000 in mid-June, unemployment rose 800,000 to 5.6 million.

The previous employment high was 68,689,000 last July.

In announcing the figures on Wednesday, the Labor Department once again reported a seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment of 6.8 per cent. This figure virtually has remained constant for seven months.

Bank Statement Call For National Banks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for a statement of the condition of all national banks at the close of business Friday, June 30.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation also called for a report on the same date on the condition of insured state banks which are not members of the federal reserve system.

No Bank Statement Call For Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—State Finance Commissioner Layton Pickard said today he is not issuing a call for the condition of Missouri banks and trust companies at this time.

By Missouri law there need be only two bank calls a year on the state level and one was made three months ago.

Burglar Helps Solve Bogus Bills Case

Counterfeiting Was Being Done At State Prison

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Authorities said today Robert E. Barnes, the busy burglar, has admitted 200 burglaries in the St. Louis area in the 5½ months since his release from the Missouri penitentiary where he blew the whistle on a convict counterfeiting ring.

The investigation of the 27-year-old Barnes already has resulted in the firing of two deputy sheriffs for alleged dealings with him and an inquiry into the activities of two professional bondsmen.

Barnes was released from prison Jan. 7. He won a reduction in a 15-year sentence for helping authorities locate plates from which bogus $10 bills were printed inside prison walls. He had been convicted of burglary, larceny and passing counterfeit bills.

He has kept police busy since his most recent arrest Friday, pointing out places he burglarized, telling of his alleged dealings with the two deputies, and helping locate the loot.

Police said most of his burglaries were committed in St. Louis County.

Warden E. V. Nash of the penitentiary said Barnes offered to help authorities last fall when a few counterfeit $10 bills turned up.

Nash said "the size of the operation was not as big as Barnes would have liked authorities to believe." But the Warden said getting hold of the plates was of prime importance.

Barnes' cooperation helped him win early release in January of this year when former Gov. James Blair reduced his sentence and made him eligible for parole.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat learned of the plates in an investigation of the firing of two Deputy Sheriffs in St. Louis.

Sheriff Martin Tozer fired his chief criminal deputy, John T. Stevens, and another deputy, Adrian Beckerle, for allegedly associating with Barnes.

The move was made on the recommendation of Circuit Attorney Daniel P. Reardon Jr., who said Barnes told him he had dealings with the deputies.

Barnes has run up 10 felony charges since his release and bonds totaling more than $50,000 are outstanding against him.

Warden Nash said Barnes turned over the plates as he said he would and authorities believe no bills got outside the prison.

No definite evidence has been turned up as to who engraved the plates or printed the bills, Nash said. The Secret Service said the case is still under investigation.

Iraqi Forces Buildup Seen; Mines Ordered for Frontier

Guarantee Sought By Sheikdom

Ask Independence Protection Before Troop Withdrawal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP)—Kuwait declared today the U.N. Security Council must give it an effective guarantee of independence before it can feel safe enough to ask British troops to withdraw from the oil rich desert sheikdom.

Abdel Aziz Hussein, Kuwait's spokesman at the council, spelled out his country's position at a news conference prior to an afternoon council session.

He made clear that a pledge from Premier Abdel Karim Kassem of Iraq not to use force in the current crisis would not be sufficient to allay fears that Iraq would try to overwhelm Kuwait.

He said admission of Kuwait to the United Nations as a member nation and withdrawal of Iraqi claims to Kuwait are prime conditions for any request for the British to withdraw their armed forces.

"We want a resolution from the council recognizing that Kuwait is an independent country and that the claim of Iraq to Kuwait has no basis," he declared.

The United Arab Republic and the Soviet Union urged the council Wednesday to call for British troop withdrawal. The troops were dispatched to Kuwait at the request of Sheikh Abdullah as-Sabah, who charged Iraqi troops were threatening to invade his newly independent country. The British announced today the movement of British troops into Kuwait has been completed.

Deceptive Food Packages Bring Wave of Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Recent Senate Antitrust subcommittee hearings on deceptive packaging and labeling practices have started "a virtual consumer uprising," Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said today.

He is chairman of the subcommittee. Hart said his office has been inundated with hundreds of packages, labels, and actual products submitted by consumers protesting against misrepresentation of the product involved.

He said at least one trade association, the Produce Packaging Association Inc., of Newark, Del., already has informed him that as a result of the hearings the association has formed a trade practices committee.

The association said the committee will establish "a code of packaging practice standards for industry adoption in cooperation with other trade associations."

The three-day hearing last week also resulted in at least one labeling suggestion which the subcommittee had not expected to go into, Hart said.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The South Viet Nam government says it will release 583 political prisoners in honor of the celebration Friday of President Ngo Dinh Diem's seventh year in office.

Kassem Denies Movement Of a 'Single Soldier'

KUWAIT (AP)—Britain's commander in Kuwait has ordered the desert frontier mined, charging Iraq forces across the border appear to be building up at an increased pace.

Brig. Derek Horsford, defending his decision to mine the frontier, declared: "I have been ordered to come in and organize the defense of this country. If I am caught with my pants down then I would deserve the sack."

British military sources said the Iraqis, despite their continued insistence that they would get control of the oil-rich sheikdom only by peaceful means, appear poised for offensive action.

The Iraq news agency reported that Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, after a plane survey of areas near the Kuwait border Wednesday, denied the British reports of Iraqi troop concentrations and said the British know that "to date Iraq has not moved a single soldier."

Kassem said in his statement that Iraq will combat British imperialism by all legitimate ways "until the liberation of our Arab countries in the gulf and until Kuwait, the stolen part, is saved and restored to its homeland, Iraq."

In the U.N. Security Council the United Arab Republic and the Soviet Union joined Iraq in demanding the immediate withdrawal of the British forces that went to Kuwait after an appeal from the country's ruler, Sheikh Abdullah as-Sabah. And there were hints the council might ask the Arab league to settle the crisis generated by Iraq's claim to Kuwait.

U.A.R. delegate Omar Loutfi, in insisting the Arab League be left to deal with the crisis, said "my country opposes any idea of annexation of Kuwait by Iraq. But we cannot oppose any program of unity among Arab brothers. In the spirit of self-determination we support Kuwait's claim to independence."

Inmate Admits Stabbing Of a Fellow Prisoner

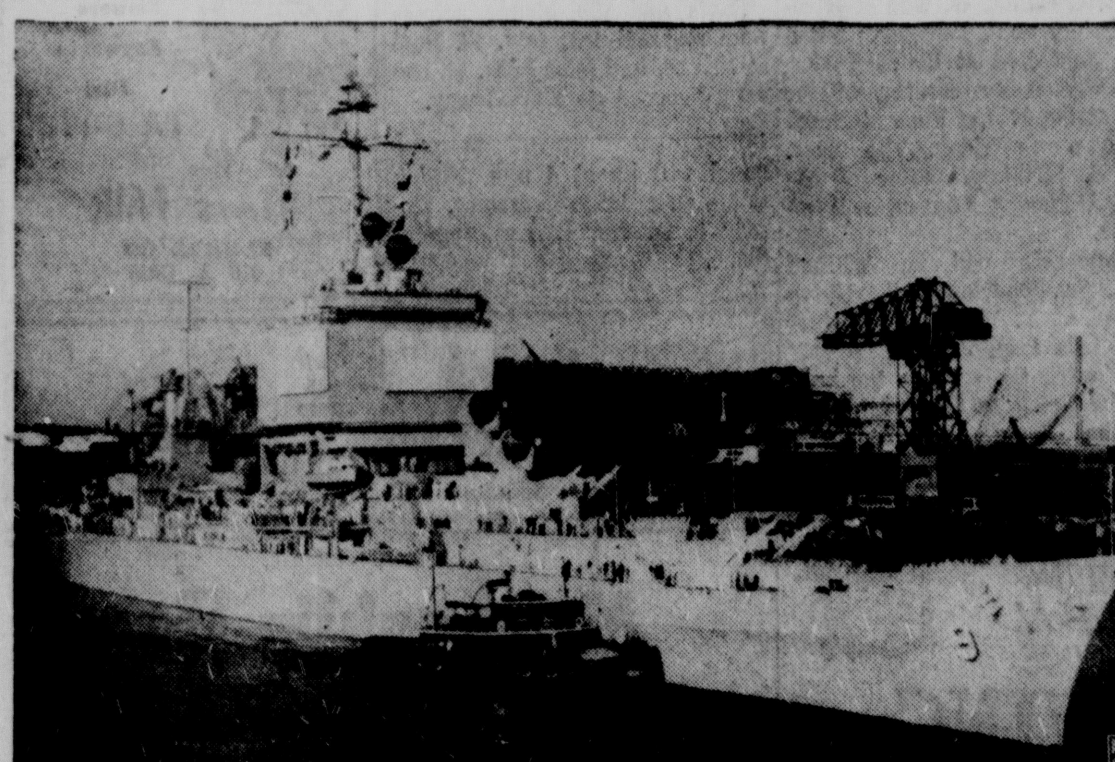

LANSING, Kan. (AP)—The Leavenworth County attorney's office had a statement today from an inmate acknowledging a stabbing at the Kansas State Penitentiary.

The body of Ross Beasley, 43, was found in his cell Wednesday with four stab wounds, inflicted by a home made knife. Prison authorities said Charles Francis Gates, 24, signed the statement.

They were not cellmates. Beasley had just returned from a work detail. He was serving 25 years for forgery from Bourbon County. Gates was under 30 years sentence for robbery and forgery from Neosho County. Beasley was admitted to prison in 1954, Gates in 1958.

Gates was questioned by Sherman Grouse, deputy warden, Sheriff Robert Woodson of Leavenworth County and a Kansas Bureau of Investigation agent. KBI agents are not identified in such cases.

Algerian Strike Claims 80

French Forces Kill Rioting Strikers; 300 Are Wounded

ALGIERS (AP)—Most of Algeria's Moslems returned to work today after a 24-hour general strike and riots during which French forces killed 80 Moslems and wounded about 300.

Some tension remained in outlying areas where emotional Moslems were burying their dead. Troops in Wednesday's trouble spots remained on the alert to put down any demonstrations that might develop during mass funeral services.

Algers was bustling with activity again. Reports said conditions were normal in other coastal cities and in most of the interior. The French reported six of their men dead and 20 wounded after the violence.

The 24-hour strike, called to protest President Charles de Gaulle's threat to partition Algeria into European and Moslem enclaves, was 90 per cent effective throughout the country and bolstered the exile rebel regime's prestige and bargaining position with the French.

There were mass demonstrations of support in neighboring Tunisia and Morocco. Ferhat Abbas, head of the rebel exile government, told a crowd of Moroccans in Casablanca: "Algeria is one and indivisible. It is not a gruyere cheese which can be carved up."

A high French official in Algiers grimly admitted the disorders "hardly contribute" to the chances of peaceful coexistence between Algeria's nine million Moslems and one million Europeans or to association of an independent Algeria with France.

De Gaulle threatened last week to partition Algeria if no agreement on Algeria's future ties with France is reached. Before Wednesday's violence French officials said peace talks between the French and the rebels, suspended since June 13, probably would resume next week.

Pro-rebel demonstrations became riots in eastern Algeria and half a dozen towns near Algiers.

It was one of the most powerful displays of pro-rebel feeling among Algeria's Moslems since the rebellion broke out nearly seven years ago. French officials conceded it showed virtually complete Moslem support for the rebel drive to win independence from France.

The bloody repression of the rioters put France in an awkward position before world opinion and increased tension and bitterness among the Moslem population.

An Extradition Hearing Is Set For August 10

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A request by the state of Wisconsin for extradition of Seth Tom Bailey of Kansas City on a charge of obtaining money fraudulently will be heard Aug. 10. He was arraigned Wednesday.

Bailey, 67, was arrested on a warrant charging he obtained $47,000 from Clarence Johnson of Walworth, Wis., by agreeing to cover rights to certain television films for Tom Bailey Productions Inc., Tucson, Ariz. He was released on $3,000 bond.

His attorney said Bailey contends the charge was based on a bankruptcy proceedings of which he has been cleared.

Hemingway's Burial Rites Kept Simple

KETCHUM, Idaho (AP) — The bell tolled today for famed author Ernest Hemingway who was to be laid to rest in a tiny well kept cemetery in the heart of the hunting valleys he chose as his home.

Members of the family planned to gather in the cemetery to meet the hearse carrying the dark gray metal casket.

The Hemingway home overlooks the little valley where the grave was dug Tuesday for the 61-year-old Nobel and Pulitzer prize winner.

Hemingway died Sunday of a shotgun blast in the head. It was ruled self-inflicted. But authorities made no determination as to whether it was accidental or on purpose.

The Rev. Robert J. Waldmann, pastor of Our Lady of the Snows Catholic Church at nearby Sun Valley, will conduct the simple rites. He said there would be no eulogy, but a meditation on death. The only time Hemingway's name was to be mentioned was in the closing prayers.

The author's fourth wife, fondly known as Miss Mary, will make her first appearance since the death. She has kept isolated in the house while members of the family made the sad journey to this southeastern Idaho resort area for the funeral of the writer whose tempestuous life was mirrored in his famous books.

The family — which includes three sons, a brother and three sisters — was together for the first time in 30 years.

It was Hemingway's oldest son, Jack, the first member of the family to arrive after the death, who picked out the casket. Other members of the family have not seen it. Neither have they viewed the body which has been kept at a funeral home in Hailey, 12 miles away.

There were reports Idaho State Police would be brought here to guard the cemetery gates. The public and the press were to be kept outside the wire fence.

One of the pallbearers, Forest MacMullen, Las Vegas, Nev., hotel executive, said Miss Mary "is taking it very well, but she is very, very upset. I admire her for the way she is taking it."

"She has many very good friends here, and she has not refused to see anyone who was her friend or papa's. Deep down, I think she'll probably stay here. She was a follower of hunting and fishing, too."

2 Soldiers Are Recommended For Medal

ASCHAFFENBURG, Germany (AP)—U.S. Army officials said today two soldiers who saved the life of a German boy and then disappeared have been recommended for the Soldier's Medal, the highest army peacetime medal for bravery.

The two, Elzie Dean Scott, 19, Omak, Wash., and Michael Wickwire, 20, Spokane, Wash., were wandering around downtown Aschaffenburg, June 10 when they spotted Michael Strenger, 5, hanging by his hands from a fourth-floor window of his home, about 100 feet above the ground.

They braced themselves under the window, locked arms and seconds later, caught Michael as he plunged screaming toward the concrete sidewalk. When Michael's mother and German police looked for the lad's rescuers, they had disappeared.

But their buddies back in camp heard radio broadcasts about the incident and after days of persuasion, finally talked them into identifying themselves.

Officers of the 33rd Heavy Tank Battalion, 3rd Armored Division, quoted Scott and Wickwire as saying they left the rescue scene when they saw Michael was back in his mother's arms.

Pilot Uninjured As Small Plane Leaves Runway

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — A private plane being flown by an airman landed in Wednesday night's rainstorm and became mired in the mud after running off the runway at Independence Memorial Airport.

The pilot, Air Force Capt. Charles Richardson, walked away unhurt. The front end and propeller of the plane, a T-34 Beechcraft, were damaged.

Richardson, visiting friends at Richards-Gebaur AFB, had flown to Wright-Patterson, Ohio, AFB during the day and was returning when he became lost in the storm.

MacArthur Is Given Hero's Welcome

DAGUPAN, the Philippines (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur returned today to the scene of his first landing on Luzon Island in the World War II liberation of the Philippines.

Young and old, thousands of Filipinos in this coastal area that took the brunt of MacArthur's massive assault in 1945 turned out to cheer the hero on the fourth day of what he says is probably his last return to the Philippines.

Wearing the old crushed campaign hat that was a familiar sight here in the liberation days, MacArthur was barely visible as he struggled through the crowd that greeted his train from Manila to a waiting car for a motorcade through the streets of Dagupan.

A gentle rain was falling, but it made no difference to the cheering throng. Many waved U.S. flags.

The motorcade stopped briefly at the present government home economics building, which served as the general's first headquarters building after the assault in January, 1945.

En route from Manila, MacArthur's train passed 120 miles of lush green rice fields, now flooded in the monsoon season. At every station schoolchildren gathered to cheer and wave flags at the man who is living legend here.

Honorary Spots In FHA Given Three Persons

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Honorary memberships in the Future Homemakers of America were awarded Wednesday night to three persons, including Dr. Walter Kerr, minister of the Marvin Methodist Church of Tyler, Tex.

Dr. Kerr speaks to the group today.

His citation read in part: "Dr. Kerr has helped the FHA's to think deeply about the meanings of peace and freedom and contributed to their understanding of what youth can do in the changing world."

The others honored were Dr. Velma Phillips, dean of the College of Home Economics at Washington State University, and James H. Pearson, assistant commission and director of vocational education in the Office of Education, Washington, D.C.

Ambassador May Clear Stand On Red Chinese

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Everett F. Drumright left today for consultations in Washington that Chinese Nationalist officials hope will reverse the trend toward U.S. recognition of Outer Mongolia and what they fear is an easing of opposition to admission of Red China to the United Nations.

Before leaving Drumright conferred with Foreign Minister Shen Chang-huan, who said afterward: "We hope and believe Mr. Drumright's trip to Washington will result in a better understanding and appreciation of our stand on the issues between our two countries."

Sammy Davis, Jr. And May Britt Become Parents

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Swedish actress Mai Britt and Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. are the parents of a 7-pound, 7-ounce daughter.

A spokesman said Davis was "deliriously happy" at becoming a father for the first time.

The baby, named Tracy Hillary, was born Wednesday. Mother and daughter are doing fine, Miss Britt's doctor said.

Davis and the blonde actress were married last Nov. 14. Both Davis, 34, and Miss Britt, 24, had been divorced once previously.

Burial will be at 4 p.m. Friday at the Oak Ridge Cemetery. The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home.

Other Fires

The Pettis County Fire Department made a run to the Richard Warren Farm, Route 1, Sedalia, about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday. A grass fire, started by burning trash, was out of control and threatened a house and out buildings. The fire was put out before damage was done to the buildings, but four fruit trees were damaged by the fire.

The Pettis County fire department was called to the Walter McClure farm, Route 5, Sedalia, at 1:20 a.m. Wednesday.

According to the fire department, electric wires leading to the heat unit in an electric stove shorted, causing slight smoke damage. REA was called to repair the damage to the wires.

Sheriff Reports

The Pettis County Sheriff's Department Wednesday investigated a break-in at a concession stand at Thunderbowl Speedway, west of Sedalia, sometime Tuesday night after the races. Sheriff Emmett Fairfax reported that a window had been broken out of the stand, but apparently nothing was missing.

Rain Across Wide Band In Mid-America

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers continued today across a broad band from the central plains to the north central Atlantic Coast.

Hail, heavy rain and gusty winds hammered sections of north central and northwest Missouri, Kansas and south central Iowa Wednesday night. More than 3 inches of rain drenched Grinnell, Iowa, and many sections along the Missouri storm belt.

Both Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan., were hit hard by the severe weather. Telephone and electric service was disrupted, streets and basements were flooded and traffic was curtailed. More than four inches of rain fell in the area.

Widely scattered showers hit the central and northern Rockies, the Florida Peninsula and along the north Pacific Coast. Mostly fair weather prevailed in other sections of the country.

It was a little chilly again this morning in northern areas east of the Mississippi River. Temperatures ranged from the 40s along the northern border to the 70s south of the Ohio Valley and central Atlantic States with 80s along the Gulf Coast and extreme southern Florida Peninsula.

A single booster line and hand extinguishers were used to put out the fire. No damage was reported.

Hope Situation In Kuwait Is Now Stabilized

LONDON (AP) — Britain announced today it has completed movement of British troops into Kuwait.

"It is hoped that as a result the situation is stabilized for the moment," the Defense Ministry said.

The buildup of British troops began last Saturday with the landing of 600 Royal Marine commandos. The British force now in Kuwait is estimated unofficially at more than 5,000 troops, backed by warships and fighter and bomber planes.

Fear Monsoon Rains May Take Heavy Toll

MADRAS, India (AP)—Officials fear deaths from floods and landslides caused by monsoon rains in southern India may total hundreds when all casualty figures are in.

Two landslides were reported today to have killed 43 persons in Kerala state Sunday. Thirty-six other deaths have been reported in Kerala since the rains started last week.

Vows An End To Issue Of West Berlin

BERLIN (AP) —Walter Ulbricht, East German Communist leader, vowed today to put an end to West Berlin "as a stronghold of the cold war" when he gets a peace treaty with the Soviet Union.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has promised him one by the end of the year.

"With the conclusion of a peace treaty, even if it is only with the German Democratic Republic," said Ulbricht, "there will begin a new settlement of the West Berlin question. I want to leave no doubt about this."

"This means that the center of provocations in West Berlin and its misuse as a stronghold of the cold war will in any case be eliminated."

Ulbricht has made clear in the past that he wants full control over land, sea and air routes to Berlin. He has also said he will insist on the closing of the big receipt niocenter at Marienfelde, where 500 refugees from communism are taken in daily.

The only question, Ulbricht said, was whether the process would be "easy and painless or more difficult." Ulbricht spoke for 90 minutes to the People's Chamber, East Germany's Soviet style parliament.

Local CD Director To Attend Meeting

Sedalia-Pettis County Civil Defense Director Fred Bennett will be among 24 Civil Defense directors from nine states in attendance at a meeting of Region Six Civil Defense officials July 12 and 13 in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Also attending in the four-man Missouri delegation will be Dean Lupkey, state CD director, and Jack Siemeon, assistant state director.

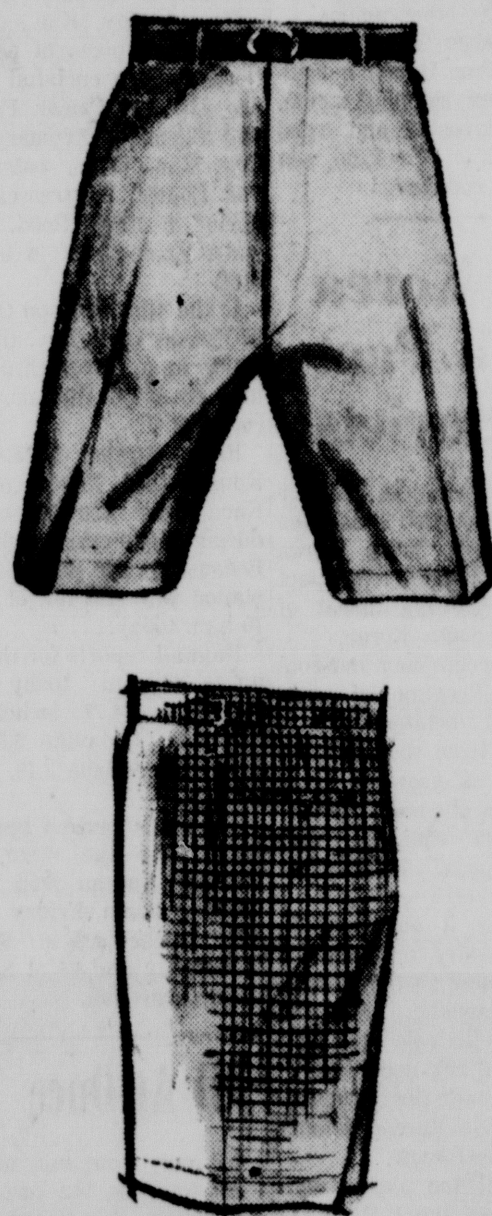

At the meeting, the CD men will set up procedures of operation which will be used in case of national attack. Representatives will be present from North and South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

Bennett will be gone from July 11 to 14. During this time assistant CD director Jack Delph will assume charge of Bennett's duties.

CD Program Control Goes To Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official sources said today the Pentagon apparently has won major responsibility for the nation's civil defense program over the protests of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

A White House meeting—which had all the earmarks of a showdown—was scheduled this morning with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and OCDM Director Frank B. Ellis in attendance.

However, White House press aide Andrew Hatcher said he did not expect President Kennedy to make any announcement after the meeting in his office.

The scheduled participants, besides McNamara, Ellis and the President, were Budget Director David E. Bell, Theodore C. Sorensen, special presidential counsel, and McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's assistant for national security affairs.

A decision in the OCDM-Pentagon tussle was due shortly, because Kennedy must soon send his revised civil defense budget to Congress. He has disclosed it will call for an approximate tripling of the $105 million previously asked.

The proposed budget of roughly $300 million would permit the launching of a nationwide fallout shelter program advocated by Ellis, with the Pentagon running the main show.

Kennedy's message to Congress on urgent national needs outlined the essentials of the program, assigned chief responsibility to the Defense Department and announced that OCDM would become the "Office for Emergency Planning" in his executive office.

Ellis has insisted, however, that final responsibility for civil defense operations and policy, as well as the coordination of the work of federal, state and local civil defense operations, should remain a civilian function under his agency. In other words, he wants the Pentagon to have responsibility for the intensified shelter drive, but operate under his directives. Organizations of governors and mayors have supported this view, but McNamara has taken the position that he should have sole authority to do the job assigned or he doesn't want the job.

Administration officials said privately Wednesday night there was "every indication" that the basic questions in dispute have been resolved. The outcome, they reported, is that McNamara will get most of the power he wants—and that the Pentagon already has begun setting up the skeletal organization which would wield the new authority.

Details were not immediately obtainable. Officials said the specific terms probably would not become known until Kenney sends to Congress a letter or special message on his request for the supplemental appropriation.

Auto Workers Tangle With Little Giant

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union takes on American Motors Corp.—the little giant of the auto industry—in labor contract negotiations today.

AMC is small in comparison with the big three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—but in the past three years it has had spectacular success with its compact Rambler and made the big companies sit up and take notice.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther may find AMC a tougher bargainer than the big three. AMC President George Tomney has been outspoken in his criticism of big labor unions and also of big corporations. He doesn't like pattern settlements.

But the UAW will insist that American Motors settle on the same terms this year as the big three.

When present three-year contracts were signed in 1958, the union allowed AMC some concessions. Annual improvement factor wages were frozen for two years at AMC's Kelvinator division in Grand Rapids, Mich. The company also was allowed to skip cost of living increases for two years at Grand Rapids.

AMC sought unsuccessfully in 1958 to win similar concessions at its automotive plants in Wisconsin.

The union has noted the growing importance of American Motors in the auto industry.

As the fourth largest of the nation's auto firms, AMC's share of the market in the first four months of this year was 6.10 per cent compared with Chrysler's 11.30. Both firms were well behind General Motors' 46.28 per cent and Ford's 28.01. AMC was far out in front of Studebaker-Packard, the only other independent, which was down to 1.35.

With sales lagging in the entire auto industry, American Motors' profits were down to $2.2 million in the first quarter of 1961 compared to profits of $14.4 million in the same period a year ago.

American Motors has reported a profit in every quarter so far of the present contract. The UAW noted this in serving notice on Chrysler that it can expect no contract concessions because it lost $21.9 million in the first quarter of 1961. The union said this showed that management, rather than the contract, was to blame for Chrysler's financial problems.

AMC has almost doubled its production force in the past four years.

The present contract with the UAW covers 22,800 employees at automotive plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis.; 2,100 at appliance plants in Grand Rapids and 100 in Detroit facilities on defense contracts.

Call Real Estate Leaders To Curb Anti-Negro Moves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department called Washington real estate leaders to a meeting today in a move to curb housing discrimination against Negro diplomats in the nation's capital.

Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles arranged to address the closed session to stress the Kennedy administration's concern over practices it says are giving Uncle Sam a bad name abroad.

President Kennedy's protocol chief, Angier Biddle Duke, termed the discrimination question urgent because "American relations with new countries are vitally affected by the treatment which their diplomats receive in Washington, being the capital of the United States."

About 25 or 30 African diplomats' families were reported to have run into varying degrees of difficulty in getting living quarters they want.

The number of African diplomats seeking living space here is expected to soar to a hundred over the coming months as new countries — wooed by both the United States and the Soviet Union — open their missions in Washington.

Washington is a semi-southern city and the only major American city where Negroes form a majority of the population—53.9 per cent. Some housing segregation has been removed in recent years but much remains without legal sanction. Property owners in the District of Columbia are under no legal compulsion to sell or rent to Negroes.

The Washington real estate board, a nongovernmental trade association, has cooperated with the State Department in seeking quarters for Negro diplomats, but does not have enforcement powers.

Duke billed the State Department meeting as an "exchange of views" aimed at securing voluntary cooperation. He said about 60 or 90 D.C. officials, real estate board members and individual real estate owners and property managers accepted invitation to attend.

Not at issue are the embassies, large and handsome buildings which the African governments have been able to buy at choice locations.

Officials said the main problem is living quarters for lower level African embassy employees who want to live in apartments. They say the Africans are more willing to excuse racial snubs in the South than in the federal capital, where they contend federal antidiscrimination policies should prevail.

While racial discrimination in apartment leasing is freely admitted to be a fact, some landlords say there are other reasons for reluctance to admit diplomats from new countries.

They cite complaints that diplomats throw too many parties, move often, abuse diplomatic privileges exempting them from many local ordinances, are immune from suits for damage they might cause and practice native customs which disturb American neighbors.

According to private real estate sources, all but a couple of the African diplomatic families now have quarters in good locations commensurate with the rent they pay.

Drought Hits More Regions In Wisconsin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Northern Wisconsin today was added to the drought-ridden Great Plains area as Minnesota sought addition of 9 more counties to the 24 already declared federal disaster tracts.

In the western Dakotas, stockmen joined crop growers in deep concern over dwindling water supplies and were moving cattle to greener pastures or preparing for their early marketing.

Grasshoppers were added to the drought plague in eastern Montana, where federal-state crop reporting services predicted many fields wouldn't even be harvested. Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., called for early action by federal authorities to aid farmers in that state's drought area. Unless there is rain soon, Wiley said Wednesday night that farmers all over Wisconsin would be suffering.

Minnesota's Gov. Elmer L. Andersen said the worsening drought was bringing new appeals to his office daily from farmers whose pastures are browned over by the searing sun and whose feed grain crops are wilted.

Granting of the new disaster appeals would place 33 of Minnesota's 87 counties into the emergency category.

In North Dakota, water was drying up in wells, creeks and the western and southern boundaries. There has been no growth of pastures or wild hay in the western two-thirds for weeks.

With temperatures in the high 80s again, much small grain was reported beyond salvage. But the corn and soybeans in the eastern zones were accorded a chance, assuming some moisture does come. All of North Dakota was declared a disaster area last week.

Western South Dakota cattlemen were reported either moving herds to greener pastures and water or holding dispersal sales, disposing of all but foundation stock.

Charles Govern, cattle expert with the South St. Paul (Minn.)

Eden Okayed For Romance Of Princess

LONDON (AP) — Society folk today viewed Nicholas Eden, handsome son of Sir Anthony Eden, as the strongest contender for the hand of Britain's most eligible bachelor girl, Princess Alexandra.

Young Eden's chances took a rise in Mayfair's eyes with the announcement Wednesday that his father, the former prime minister, had been made an earl. That automatically raised Nicholas, Eden's only surviving son, to the peerage as a viscount and the heir to his father's earldom. Socialites figured that the royal family, having seen Princess Margaret and Alexandra's brother, the Duke of Kent, marry commoners, would be pleased to see the queen's tall, attractive first cousin choose a husband from the peerage.

Nicholas, 30 and looking a lot like his handsome father, has long been a part-time escort of the 24-year-old princess. Recently old princes. Recently they have they have been seeing much more of each other.

They go to the theater together and have supper afterward by candlelight in London's smart clubs. They went to Ascot to-

Social Security Law Change To Affect About 4,770,000

Changes in the social security law signed by President Kennedy June 30 directly affect about 4,770,000 persons aged 62 or older, giving them social security benefits for the first time or increasing benefits already payable to them, Thomas F. Nash, manager of the Sedalia social security office, said today.

The new law makes the following changes:

1. Men now have an option of retiring at age 62 with lower benefits or of waiting until age 65 and collecting higher benefits.

2. Widows' benefits are increased by about 10 per cent.

3. Minimum benefits are raised.

4. The amount of work under social security needed to get benefits is lowered.

5. People who receive only part of their benefits for a year because they earn over $1500 will have a smaller amount deducted.

6. Social security taxes go up slightly beginning Jan. 1, 1962.

Under the new provisions, men can begin collecting benefits at age 62 if they choose, just as women have been able to do since 1956. But workers who decide to take benefits before they are 65 will get less per month than they would if they waited until age 65, Nash said.

The sooner a worker takes his benefits after age 62, the greater the reduction in his benefits will be. However, the reductions are figured so that on the average people may expect to receive about the same amount if they get reduced benefits beginning before age 65, or wait until they reach 65 and collect higher monthly amounts.

Dependent husbands' benefits, if taken before age 65, will also be reduced, but dependent widowers and fathers can receive full benefits at age 62, Nash said.

The new amendments raise the aged widow's benefit from the present 75 per cent of the husband's retirement benefit to 82.5 per cent, a 10 per cent increase in individual benefits, beginning August 1961, Mr. Nash said.

The same increase will be made in the benefits of aged dependent widowers and those of aged parents if there is only one dependent parent surviving.

An increase of up to $7 in the minimum old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits is due beginning with the benefit check for the month of August, 1961, Nash said. The present minimum is $33; the new minimum payment will be $40.

Another change lowers the amount of work credit required for old-age and survivors benefits. The new law makes payments possible for a person who has work credit for one calendar quarter for each year after 1950 and up to the year he reaches 65 (62 for a woman). Survivors of workers who died in 1958 or later and who were not eligible for benefits before this change may now be eligible. These people should inquire at their social security office soon.

Another change in the law makes it possible for people eligible for social security benefits to earn up to $1,700 and receive more in total earnings and benefits than under the old law.

Under both the old and the new law, a beneficiary can earn $1,200 a year and receive all of his monthly social security benefits. The old law, though, required $1 in benefits to be withheld for each $2 earned from $1,200 to $1,500, and $1 for each $1 earned over $1,500.

Under the new law, $1 is withheld for each $2 earned from $1,200 to $1,700, and then $1 for each earned over $1,700. Thus, under the new law only $250 in benefits is deducted when the beneficiary earns $1,700 during the year. Under the old law $350 would have been withheld.

To help finance the changes, the amendments call for an increase in social security taxes beginning Jan. 1, 1962. Employees and employers will each pay an additional one-eighth of one per cent on earnings up to $4,800 a year—a total of three and one-eighth per cent in social security taxes.

Self-employed persons will pay 4.7 per cent on net earnings up to $4,800 a year, instead of the former 4.5 per cent rate.

The disability insurance program remains unchanged, Nash said, except that workers with long-standing disabilities are given another year, until June 30, 1962, to file claims for benefits.

Mr. Nash said increases in benefits for widows and for those getting minimum benefits will be made automatically before the August checks are mailed early in September. It will not be necessary, he said, for these people to contact the social security office.

Some other people affected by the amendments to the law must apply before their benefits can be started. Among them are older workers who formerly did not have enough credit for work under social security to receive benefits, workers between 62 and 65 who wish to retire now with reduced benefits, and dependent widowers or fathers.

Rogues of the Hobby Shop

By JERRY BENNETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Bored? Then follow the example of some of the nation's most notorious criminals and get yourself an unusual hobby.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have found that novel pastimes are a common trait of dangerous criminals. Often their hobbies are so unusual that they lead to the criminal's identification and arrest.

Agents hope this will be the case with John (Slick) Everhart, one of the nation's top 10 fugitives who killed a man in Athens, Ga., and later wounded a policeman in Atlanta. Everhart's favorite pastime is sketching and drawing Biblical scenes. Agents believe he may be masquerading as a preacher.

Another top 10 hobbist is Anthony Vincent Fede, wanted for the kidnap-robbery of a Cleveland tavern owner. Fede is both a canary fancier and antique collector with a special love for white statuary.

The FBI warns antique dealers that the fugitive is potentially more destructive than the proverbial bull in the china shop. He is usually armed with a hand grenade.

A fugitive betrayed by his hobby is an armed forces deserter arrested in Minneapolis, Minn. On the chance that he might be hiding in his wife's apartment, agents questioned a tenant living directly above.

"Sure, he is down there," the woman replied. "He played his bongo drums until two this morning."

While searching a bank robbery suspect, agents found a small notebook filled with unrelated words. The man explained that during a prison term he had started making up crossword puzzles. He started selling them to newspapers and magazines and continued to do so after his release.

Edward Bentz, known in the late 1930s as "Kingpin of the Modern-Day Bank Robbers," had a hobby related to his occupation. He collected old coins.

Daniel William O'Connor, armed forces deserter, and bad check passer who was wanted for the attempted murder of a Royal Canadian policeman, liked to spend his spare time lifting weights.

Another fugitive arrested for violating the espionage statutes explained his favorite pastime was making bombs.

Agents have also arrested criminals who expressed interest in such diverse hobbies as roller skating, motorcycle riding, opium

Sedalia Weeds Must Go

Over emphasis of a community's weed problem at this time of year may be considered obnoxious by many property owners, but it is no more so than the noxious odors exhaled by rank vegetation and the filth deposits high weeds and grass may conceal.

The problem is not new. Forty years ago Sedalians were complaining about it. One irate citizen suggested the Chamber of Commerce inaugurate a "Weed-cutting Day" once a month "dedicated to community sanitation and the slaughter of weeds." The idea had stimulation from the impending Missouri Centennial celebration at the State Fair grounds here. Public spirited residents wanted Sedalia to present an immaculate appearance to the many thousands of visitors in 1921.

The same inspiration should prevail now upon approach of the 1961 exhibition, August 19 - 27, which will probably attract an attendance even greater than the special centennial observance in the early 20's.

Although Sedalia long has had a $10 to $100 penalty ordinance applying to property owners who permit the growth of rank weeds and grass, it has never been enforced vigorously. In fact some government jurisdictions have not always kept their own premises neatly trimmed. Already someone wants to know who takes responsibility for the luxurious weed growth on West Main street from the railroad all the way out to Gasoline Alley.

Locally city council has evinced concern over the weed problem by strengthening enforcement provisions already existing. A new ordinance was passed unanimously last Monday night authorizing the Director of the Sanitation department to enter upon lots or tracts of non-resident owners and to cut and remove weeds found growing thereon and to charge the cost against the owner.

This may be considered a cheap and convenient way for the non-resident to get his weeds cut. However, the new ordinance should not absolve the non-resident from the penalty provisions of the old ordinance the same as it applies to resident owners, albeit there may be some difficulty in collection procedures.

One thing is patent about Sedalia's weed ordinances. They will encourage many property owners to comply voluntarily with the weed-cutting provisions. But in all justice to those who do, there should be consistent and vigorous enforcement applied to those who do not.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Oppose Aid For Church Schools

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Congressmen who have been debating the bitter, bogged-down question of aid to parochial vs. public schools have found that about 15 per cent of American school children go to private schools. Of these, by far the greatest number are Roman Catholic.

Enrollment in Catholic schools totals approximately 5,000,000, while that in Protestant and Jewish schools totals about 300,000. All would be entitled to government aid under the No. 2 aid-for-education bill which provides 40-year loans to build school buildings for the teaching of science, mathematics, foreign languages, and physical education — on the ground that these are beneficial to national defense.

However, the interesting fact is that a great majority of Protestant and Jewish educators not only oppose federal aid but have indicated strongly they will not accept it if offered.

The Lutherans operate the largest body of Protestant parochial schools, enrolling 173,174 students; most of them are under the conservative Lutheran body known as the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, headquarters in St. Louis, which conducts 1,307 parochial schools with an enrollment of 157,000.

This Lutheran board of parish education, in statements submitted to the congressional committees on education March 26, said, "The teaching program of our schools deals with character formation, motives of action, and principles of life which in a church school definitely promotes the tenets of the church which supports it."

"We believe it would be unwise for the government to grant such aid or for the church to accept it."

Dr. Philip A. Johnson of the National Lutheran Council, speaking for other Lutheran groups, warned of sectarian rivalry which public support for church schools might engender.

Breach of Constitution

Second largest body of Protestant parochial schools is operated by the Seventh-Day Adventists, who enroll a higher percentage of children of their members' families—75 per cent—than any other denomination.

Speaking for this body with 1,065 parochial schools, the Religious Liberty Association, a division of the general conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, said:

"It is evident that any amendment that would extend federal aid to parochial schools would potentially benefit the Seventh Day Adventist Church."

"Were it to accept such benefits, millions of dollars that it now uses to subsidize its schools and millions of dollars paid by its members in tuition could be channeled into other lines of church endeavor."

"But neither their appreciation for the merits of parochial schools nor their financial investment in them diminishes the Seventh-Day Adventist Church's regard for the Constitution. To ask American citizens of other religions or of no religion to support by their tax dollars doctrinal teachings with which they do not agree would, in the opinion of Seventh-Day Adventists, be a very serious breach of constitutional principles. Adventists oppose, therefore, any amendment to the federal-aid-to-education bill which would, in effect, grant a subsidy to parochial schools."

Among other Protestant groups which maintain private schools are Episcopalians, Quakers, Baptists, the Christian Reformed Church, Mennonites, and Amish. None of these bodies have indicated any desire for federal aid.

One Protestant school leader, Mr. Glen Andreas, a Pella, Iowa, banker, and member of the conservative Calvinist branch of the Christian Reformed Church, is vice president of Citizens for Educational Freedom, an organization that has been lobbying in Congress not only for federal aid to parochial schools but for full support of such schools through the medium of "tuition grants" made to parents to be used as the parents desire. However, he has received little support from other Protestants.

The Lesson of Holland

Mr. Andreas argues that the system used in the Netherlands where the government supports both Protestant and Catholic schools should be used here. In Holland only a few public schools are in operation. But others point out that in the Netherlands this has resulted in a society where there are Catholic daily newspapers and Protestant; a Catholic political party, a Protestant party, and a violently anti-clerical socialist party; where there are Protestant department stores and Catholic stores; and where help-wanted advertisements often indicated the faith of the employer so that job-seekers of other faiths will not apply.

A number of conservative Orthodox and Jewish bodies maintain day schools. A few Orthodox "Yeshivas" would welcome government support, but the Orthodox body, Agudath Israel of America, which took a stand favoring federal aid was sharply answered by the American Jewish Congress and other major Jewish bodies. They warned of the divisiveness which government support of religious institutions might introduce into American life.

The Greek Orthodox Church and other eastern Orthodox bodies are promoting establishment of parochial schools in major cities. So is the Byzantine Rite Catholic Church, which is related to the Roman Catholic Church, but uses the Ukrainian language and offers mass in the Slavonic tongue.

Thus, there is almost no end of parochial school systems which U.S. taxpayers could be called upon to support. One question debated by congressmen is whether religious competition would not lead Protestants to change their present policy and accept aid—once it is extended to Catholic schools.

Farmer Prestige

The Kennedy Administration (and Secretary of Agriculture Freeman in particular) is determined to change the image of the farmer.

Mr. Freeman says "Our farmers deserve praise, not condemnation; and their efficiency should be cause for gratitude and not something for which we are penalized. Farmers are subsidizing consumers, rather than taxpayers and consumers subsidizing farmers."

It may be that the public relations program being put on by the Department is looking for the farm votes in the next election, but to speak of agriculture in terms of distress and failure is bad psychology for any group. It is far better to refer to American agriculture as the provider of food and fiber and as a highly successful and efficient industry.

There are many small farms in this country that cannot be classified as efficient or successful but there are others both large and small that are good examples of a modern, efficient industrial plant.

Never underestimate the tiller of the soil for he is the backbone of our economy.

The vice president of the United States is "President of the Senate."

An Aspirin for Lingering Headache

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first half of 1961 was a kind of aspirin for a headache that won't go away. We are now fresh out of aspirins.

Up till June 30 President Kennedy's administration had—comparatively—a delightful time with both Congress and the Russians.

In Congress, where he lacks enough support to sail his programs through as he asks, he used two simple but adroit methods to get what he wanted:

1. For the most part he offered very moderate programs which, by their nature, avoided violent opposition: differences with members of Congress on various points but not on total programs.

TIME OF YOUR LIFE BY ARTHUR LORD

for practical advice on the problems of growing older.

Dear Arthur: My husband will retire in just three years. We look forward to the time when we can sit and be alone and enjoy one another's company. Years ago when Harold and I were in our '20s—we're both 62 now—we used to talk about what it would be like to retire. I wonder if there is anything I should do to prepare for these years we've waited so long for.

Waiting
Dear Waiting: You've already taken the first and most important step. You realize that preparation for retirement is necessary. So many people just wait for retirement to arrive and expect that day to transform their lives as if by magic. Many things must be thought of and planned for. For instance:

INCOME. How much will there be and where will it come from? You and your husband should discuss this. Find out about annuities, social security, paid-up insurance policies, stock dividends, etc.

HOUSING. Do you want to remain in your present home? If not, where would you like to move? Perhaps, you want to leave the city for a brisker or balmy climate. If so, a vacation-inspection trip to your new home town would be in order. In any case you'll want to check apartment costs and arrangements for home buying.

NINE-TO-FIVE. What will Harold do during the day? He may be happiest being with you all day. He may want to pursue one of his hobbies. He may want to teach, do volunteer work, or get another job.

Help Harold think about these matters so that when retirement years come, you and he can plunge into them without a worry in the world.

Dear Joey: Your grandma and grandpa sound like wonderful people. Thanks for writing me about them. Next time I'm out your way I'll take you up on your invitation, and we'll all have an ice cream together.

Dear Anna: It is unfortunate that your 53-year-old daughter Charlotte feels older than you, but that is no reason for you to be depressed. After all, don't you think that Charlotte is old enough to take care of herself?

2. He used pressure, persuasion and concessions by himself and members of his White House staff to win over such opposition as he had. This has been a very smooth operation. Kennedy's own 15 years in Congress made him expert on this.

The result was a big batch of legislation which — if that had been all that was involved—would have given him a very successful first year in office. But it wasn't all.

Congress cleaned up most of the programs before June 30. But the three biggest and most controversial were left over until after the Fourth of July holiday.

These were federal aid to education, the foreign aid program and medical care for the aged. The medical care bill looks just about dead for 1961, isn't likely to get action until 1962.

The big stumble in his foreign aid program is his request to Congress to give him authority to promise this aid on a five-year basis. He wants recipient nations to be able to plan long-range instead of on the present year-to-year basis.

Congress is hesitant about signing the check for that far ahead. There'll be rough-and-tumble on this one.

The same goes for the federal aid to education bill, principally because of the fight over this question: Should the aid also go to church and private schools.

At this moment it isn't at all clear what the outcome will be.

The Mature Parent

Don't Try to Possess Emotions of Children

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Last night 12-year-old John went to a schoolmate's birthday party.

When he got home his mother first scanned his face for evidence of the kind of time he'd had. It told her nothing. Dissatisfied with his "Oh, fine!" answer to her question, she followed him upstairs to his room. There she pursued her interrogation. She asked:

Did Ginny like her present? Was Frankie Burns invited? He didn't make any mean remarks about your eyeglasses again, did he? Did you remember to thank Ginny's mother for a nice time? Did Ginny ask you to do your magic tricks? Why not? She asked you to bring your kit over, didn't she?"

Yet this same parent who thus tries to control her child's private feelings would be shocked if you suggested that he needed help in choosing a new summer camp this year. She would glare at you and say stiffly, "We believe in letting John make his own decisions."

She would see nothing contradictory in letting him make a decision on a summer camp—and refusing to let him decide to withhold his feelings from her.

Parents who take great pride in giving children freedom of action are often those who try to exert the most persistent supervision of their feelings.

This is not said in criticism. In our hearts we know that John needs help with decisions like choosing a summer camp, spending his $40 worth of accumulated Christmas and birthday checks,

But from now until Labor Day, at least, Congress should be making more noise than it did all year and Kennedy's trouble with Congress probably will be intense.

In the foreign field Kennedy stumbled badly on Cuba by approving a sad-sack invasion by Cuban rebels which withered on the beaches. And he got a nasty setback in Laos where, despite his early stern talk, the Communists have calmly gobbled up more of it.

But to most Americans Cuba probably looks like small stuff while tiny Laos, lost in Southeast Asia, seems far away and not vital. If this had been all that was involved in foreign dealings, it could probably have been swept under the rug.

But it wasn't. From the very moment he took office Kennedy knew before the year was out he was going to have trouble with Russia over West Berlin. Premier Khrushchev had warned of it last year.

But for most of Kennedy's early months in office Khrushchev was rather gracious, as if allowing the new President to move into his new house before pulling the roof down around his ears.

So Khrushchev waited till early June to tell Kennedy he wanted a Berlin settlement within six months.

From now till the end of the year the heat will build up, since something will have to be done.

So the second half of 1961 ought to wind up being a pistol.

Fiscal Deficit $3 Billion

From Here On Out Budgets Belong to President Kennedy

By ROBERT E. HENNESSEE
DP&R Special Service

WASHINGTON—The 1961 fiscal year, which belonged solely to President Eisenhower, ended with a $3 billion deficit. The budgets from here on out belong to President Kennedy.

The 1962 budget, while actually prepared by President Eisenhower before he left office, has been heavily amended by Mr. Kennedy to the point where it must be considered his rather than the former administration's.

Democrat Pick-ups

By News Staff

It was Sunday morning and somehow the woman found that she didn't have a clean pair of hose. But there were lots of dirty ones. So, having to have a pair, she just picked out a couple of matching stockings from the bunch, washed the rest of them, and then went in to put on the pair she had selected.

She put one on and it was fine. But when she put the other one on, there was a run all the way up. That was a fine kettle of fish. Here she had washed all the other hose and now she could not use any of them because they were all wet and she didn't have time to wait until they were dry.

So, she began to look around to see if she could find some old hose somewhere. She looked and she looked. Every pair she found had a runner in one. And if she found one stocking she couldn't find another one the same color. At last she found two stockings, not the same kind, and not even the same shade, but really not too different. She put them on and looked at them. They were a little different, however, neither of them had a run. She looked at them and could see a difference in the color. But she wore them anyway. And after she got started every time she looked down they looked more and more alike.

So she kept feeling better, even if they were dirty. In fact she had to wash some spots off one of them before she started, where she had evidently got splattered with mud.

The next time she is going to be sure that she has a matching pair without runs, before she washes the entire bunch. —H. L.

Dykes Backs Piersall

Says He's One
Of the Finest
Centerfielders

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleveland manager Jimmy Dykes today in effect backed Jimmy Piersall in his slap at Paul Richards for leaving the Indians' fiery centerfielder off the American League All-Star squad.

"I don't want to become embroiled with Richards," Dykes said. But I'll say this: There aren't more than one or two better centerfielders than Piersall. I exclude that guy (Willie Mays) in the National League, who is in a class by himself."

Piersall exploded with typical Piersall vehemence Wednesday when asked if he was hurt because Richards, the Baltimore manager who will manage the AL All-Stars, left him off the team.

The players picked the starting lineups, excluding pitchers. The manager of the team, usually guided by the players' voting, selects the remainder of the 25-man squad for the two games—the first of which will be played next Tuesday in San Francisco.

"It's enough to make you want to cry," Jimmy said, "because a manager doesn't like you and because he favors somebody else. Casey Stengel picked me twice and Al Lopez picked me last year. I'm not trying to belittle the guys Richards picked over me, but any time I'm hitting .340 I ought to be on the All-Star team."

The starting outfielders for the AL team are Rocky Colavito, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris. Richards picked as his outfield reserves Yogi Berra, Al Kaline and the Orioles' Jackie Brandt. Compared to Piersall's .341 average, Brandt is hitting .354, Kaline .297 and Berra .277. Piersall was runnerup in the centerfield voting to Mantle.

Piersall said he felt Richards didn't like him "because I once said what I thought of him as a manager."

Richards dismissed Piersall's blast curtly. "I picked Brandt because I think he's a better ball player than Piersall," he said. He didn't mention Berra or Kaline.

Wants Another Try

ROME (AP) — British lightweight Dave Charnley, who stopped Raimondo Nobile of Italy in the fourth round Wednesday night, said today he wants another shot at the world lightweight title.

"I plan to meet Joe Brown, the champion, as soon as possible," Charnley said. Brown already has defeated Charnley twice.

Flint, Mich., Monday, figures to be in the running for the star.

COACHING HELPS

You can learn to fish through trial and error.

But a better and quicker system is to seek help from an experienced fisherman. From him you can learn more fundamentals in a few hours on the initial trip than you would on several without a coach.

Most fishermen are more than happy to share the fun of sport fishing.

If you don't know any experienced fishermen, check your home sportsmen's clubs. Each has members who are willing to work with and impart their fishing knowledge to the eager novice. Many are just waiting to be asked.

If you're a college student, did you know that many schools offer credit courses in fishing? The American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation has developed this program under a grant from the Associated Fishing Tackle Manufacturers.

The AFTM has worked along with many groups, including the American Casting Association, which offers free lessons.

J-Bar-H Attendance Stands at 63,000

CAMDENTON, Mo. (AP) — The J-Bar-H Rodeo attracted another crowd of 9,000 Wednesday night, and got all of its events out of the way before the rains came. More than 63,000 fans have attended the rodeo since it opened Saturday. It closes this Saturday.

Wednesday night winners:

Wild horse race—Willard Combs, Checotah, Okla.; bare-back bronc riding—Buddy Peak, Tucson, Ariz., calf roping—Bob Goodspeed, St. Louis; saddle bronc riding—Benny Reynolds, Melrose, Mont.; steer wrestling — Pat Scudder, Dewey, Okla., and brahma bull riding—a tie, between Bob Shepard, Lubbock, Tex., and Cleo Schultz, Alma, Kan.

Lack of Depth On Tiger Mound

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

If there's a weak link in Detroit's chain of thought about winning the American League pennant it's the lack of depth among starting pitchers. And because of it, the Tigers' lead is down to only half a game over the New York Yankees.

The big 3½ of the staff—Frank Lary (12-4), Don Mossi (9-2) Jim Bunning (8-6) and Phil Regan (7-4)—have accounted for 36 of Detroit's 51 victories, the bullpen has collected 12.

Bunning won his third in a row as Detroit won the opener of a day-night doubleheader at Boston 6-2 Wednesday, but the Tigers then lost the nightcap 8-3 as manager Bob Scheffing turned to sometimes starter Bob Bruce when confronted with his second twinbill in two days.

The split, coupled with the Yankees' 6-0 victory over third place Cleveland behind the four-hit tossing of rookie Roland Sheldon, also put the Tigers one behind New York in the "lost" column.

Baltimore closed within a half game of Cleveland by beating Washington 2-0 on the four-hit pitching of Dick Hall, the Los Angeles Angels beat Minnesota 6-2 and Kansas City spilled the Chicago White Sox 8-3 in a game called after six innings because of rain.

In the National League, Cincinnati regained a three-game lead by winning 3-2 at San Francisco while St. Louis clubbed the second place Los Angeles Dodgers 9-1. Milwaukee swept a twin-night pair from Philadelphia 5-4 in 12 innings, and 4-0. Pittsburgh-Chicago was rained out.

Right-handed Bill Monbouquette (8-6) and reliever Mike Fornieles checked the Tigers on five hits in the nightcap. Dick McAuliffe and Rocky Colavito, who drove in five runs in the opener, homered for Detroit before Fornieles nailed it with 3½ innings of perfect relief.

The Red Sox collected 12 hits, including homers by Jim Pagliaroni and Gary Geiger.

Bunning gave up seven hits and struck out six while beating Billy Muffett (8-6).

Sheldon (5-2) won his fifth in a row for the Yankees with his first major league shutout. He started at his own request in self anger after giving up a steal of home while working one inning of relief against Detroit Tuesday. Yogi Berra's two-out single gave Sheldon the edge with a first-inning run off loser Gary Bell (5-9). Roger Maris closed the scoring with a solo seventh-inning home run, his 32nd and stayed 17 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record 60 pace of 1927.

Hall (5-3) a right-hander, shut out the Senators for the second time as the Orioles put away their 12th victory in 15 games. Marv Breeding scored both Baltimore runs against Bennie Daniels (4-5).

The A's tagged Chicago with a fifth straight loss, dropping the Sox back to sixth place, on four-run bursts in the first and second innings. Juan Pizarro (4-2) lost his second in a row, while ex-White Sox right-hander Bob Shaw was the winner.

Steve Bilko drove in the Angels' first three runs with a pair of doubles. Ken Hunt also drove in three runs, with a ninth-inning homer.

Ruby Stoval Takes Honors in Women's Golf Tourney Wed.

Ruby Stoval carded a handicap score of 41 for top honors over 20 women participating in the weekly Ladies Day tournament Wednesday morning at Elm Hills golf course. Mrs. Stoval's score was tops in "A" Flight competition.

Bobbie Poundstone topped "B" Flight with a handicap score of 42, while Dorothy Ream and Doris Tipton tied for low putt honors with 11 each.

Mrs. Stoval, playing with a three-stroke handicap, toured the nine hole course in an actual score of 44. Mrs. Poundstone's 17-stroke handicap gave her an actual 59 card in "B" Flight.

Little LEAGUERS

The Adco team was only able to field eight players and was forced to forfeit the game to Optimist in the first game at Little League stadium Tuesday night. For the record book the game is recorded as a score of Optimist 1, Adco 0.

Post 16 survived a six run uprising in the last half of the sixth inning to defeat Moose by a score of 11-10 in the second game. Donsell and Fieg of Post 16 tagged Moose pitcher Rieger for two baggers. Dedrick picked up the win while Rieger was tagged for the loss.

Lions took Sedalia Ice by a score of 11-8 in "A" team play at Housel Park Tuesday night. Smith was the winning pitcher, and Stacey picked up the loss.

Sedalia Ice romped over Lions 18-14 in "B" team play. Second baseman Jackson of Lions got a homer in the third. Williams was the winner, and Patton was the losing pitcher.

Paul Muller of Lions threw a shutout and his brother Pete powered two home runs, one with two on, to defeat Sedalia Ice by a score of 19-0. Paul Muller struck out eight and let only three men reach base. Bahner was the losing pitcher for Sedalia Ice.

Vansell of Post 16 struck out 14 batters in the first game at Little League stadium Wednesday night, but it wasn't enough to win the game, as Jaycees came out on top of a 3-2 score. Post 16 got off to a two run lead in the first inning but failed to score again as Jaycees picked up three runs in the third and stayed in front for the balance of the game. Winning pitcher McCurdy struck out ten men.

Rain and bad weather stopped the second game in the fourth inning with Sedalia Ice leading Adco 6-1. Hunt was on the mound

Cards Crumble Dodgers; A's Reverse Trend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Dodgers 9-1 in Los Angeles Wednesday night as Bill White hit three homers and Bob Gibson hurled a four-hitter. Gibson also contributed a home run to the Card attack.

White is the first visiting slugger to hit three home runs in one game over the right field fence at the Dodgers temporary home.

The Kansas City Athletics returned home from a brief visit in California where the Los Angeles Angels dropped them into the American League basement and, in a rain shortened six inning game beat the Chicago White Sox 8-3.

Bob Shaw allowed his former mates six hits in posting his first victory over them since joining the A's.

Kansas City collected 12 hits and scored four runs in each the first and second innings.

Jerry Lumpe led off both innings and triggered the scoring outbursts. He doubled in the first and the A's followed up with 5 singles.

In the second, Lumpe tripled and scored on a single by Joe Pignatano. A single, two errors and a double by Wayne Causey accounted for three more runs.

Juan Pizarro was the starter and loser.

White homered in the third, hit a two-run shot in the fourth, was intentionally walked in the sixth, homered again in the eighth and doubled in the ninth.

Johnny Podres was the starter and loser for the Dodgers.

for Sedalia Ice, and Pierce was pitching for Adco.

Stacy Guest Speaker At Lions Meet

Billy Stacy, St. Louis football Cardinal halfback, was the guest speaker at the weekly Lions Club noon meeting at Bothwell Hotel Wednesday. Stacy highlighted his talk with a film of games the Cardinals played in St. Louis last year.

Stacy said that last year was the first season for the Cardinals in St. Louis. The team originally came from Chicago, Ill., he said. He said that since it was the first season for the Cards in the Missouri city, attendance was low. However, he showed indication the situation will probably improve.

He said the Cardinals were the lightest team in the National Football League last year, and probably will be the same this year. He said by mid-November the team will either be on the very top or on the bottom of the list. He based this on the fact that the Cards are scheduled to meet the six toughest teams in the league at the beginning of the new season. However, he said he was looking forward to a good season with the Cardinals.

Stacy came from Drew, Miss., and was born in 1936. He said the average age of Cardinal players was 25, putting him among those of average age.

Program chairman was Jerry Thomas. This was the first meeting presided over by the new Lions Club president, Ken Leslie.

Major League Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hitting — Bill White, Cardinals, drove in four runs with three homers and added a double in five at-bats in 9-1 victory over Dodgers.

Pitching — Dick Hall, Orioles, blanked Senators on four hits, struck out nine and walked none for 2-0 victory.

Bye Bye BOGIES by BOB ROSBURG

HOLD THE CLUB firmly with the hands about shoulder high and wave the clubhead up and down.

By BOB ROSBURG

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. The average golfer finds it impossible to play except on weekends.

He usually is forced to take a layoff during the more severe winter weather. Then he goes out and expects to shoot a good game with muscles that are stiff and unresponsive and timing as poor as a rusty watch.

There are a few simple exercises that keep muscles in shape and timing sharp. Ten minutes devoted to them daily will pay big dividends on Saturday and Sunday when the chips are down. During the winter months they keep you in shape for competition when the spring sun peeks.

To develop wrist muscles, and keep them in trim, take your regular grip on any club. Hold the club firmly with both hands about shoulder high and wave the clubhead up and down as far as possible without using the arms or shoulders. This exercise will greatly strengthen the wrists for long driving.

It will give the wrists the tone needed for more delicate shots, such as short pitches.

Derby Meeting Saturday; Equipment to Be Issued

The final Soap Box Derby meeting for the 1961 race will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the fire station on South Kentucky, according to Derby Director W. D. Hill, who pointed out that the meeting is one of the most important in the program. Boys have been advised to attend the meeting and bring their racers as the semi-final inspection will be conducted and boys will receive racing helmets and official derby T-shirts, providing their cars are finished and pass inspection. Entrants will also be given their racing class and car number sticker to be placed on the side of the cars.

Hill pointed out that boys not present for the meeting will be missing out on a briefing regarding the lineup and how the race will be conducted. Too, he said, this is the last inspection where boys can make corrections. "An inspection conducted just prior to the racers being placed on the starting ramp, Sunday, July 23, could result in a boy being eliminated because he does not have time to make adjustments," Hill added. Tips on how to drive the track to increase each boys chances to be Sedalia's Soap Box Derby Champ will also be brought out at the meeting to follow the inspection. Parents are being urged to attend the meeting with their sons.

ACID STOMACH SUFFERERS
Get Quick Soothing Relief!
New Antacid Relieves After-Eating Pains, Heartburn, Acid Indigestion—Soaks Up Acid as a Blotter Soaks Up Ink!
Mavene gives fast, lasting two-way relief. 1) Non-systemic alkalies begin to neutralize excess acids the minute they enter the stomach. 2) Proteins (milk and beef) in Mavene provide "delayed action" relief, soak up acid to keep stomach soothed for hours.
Mavene contains no sedatives, no narcotics, no analgesic, no tranquilizer, no systemic drugs. And with Mavene, there's no alkaline shock, no acid rebound, no suppressions of secretions common to most antacids.
Mavene is intended for relief of symptoms of distress arising from stomach and duodenal ulcers, poor, digestion acid dyspepsia, heartburn, sleeplessness, jaded appetite when these conditions are due to or persist because of excess acid. Get safe, lasting Mavene relief today.
So simple to take — EAT IT LIKE A COOKIE!

UAR, Russians Seek Ouster of British Troops from Kuwait

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Arab Republic and the Soviet Union both urged the U. N. Security Council Wednesday to call for withdrawal of British armed forces from Kuwait.

Omar Loufi, the U.A.R. delegate, accompanied his call with a plea to the council to let the Arab countries themselves resolve the crisis over the oil rich desert kingdom.

He said this could best be done within the machinery of the Arab League, whose secretary-general is currently consulting with leaders of Arab countries.

The Soviet and U.A.R. positions were set forth at the second meeting of the 11-nation council on Kuwait. The council met for the first time in extraordinary session on Sunday, then adjourned until Wednesday.

Better Family Living

by
OPAL O'BRIANT
Pettis County Home Agent

Dates Ahead

Tuesday, July 11—4-H Judging Day. Broadway Presbyterian Church.

July 11-13 — Home Floriculture and Flower Show Practice Short Course, Columbia.

July 18-21—4-H Camp. Wednesday, July 26 — Family Living Committee meeting, 1:30-3:30 Extension Office.

Aug. 2-4 — 4-H Achievement Days. Open House night of Aug. 3 at Smith-Cotton High School.

Aug. 11—District 4-H Achievement Day. Smith-Cotton High School. The district will be represented by 19 counties.

4-H Judging Day
The 4-H Judging Day will be held July 11, Broadway Presbyterian Church, Broadway and Kentucky, Tuesday, July 11.

Any boy or girl enrolled in 4-H may participate in the county judging event as long as they are enrolled in the projects in which they are judging. The time schedule is: Foods, 9:30-12; vegetables, 9-10; woodwork, 10-11; home management, 10-12 noon; clothing, 1-4; home grounds, 2-4. Ribbons will be awarded following the judging in each division. There will be two age groups for those judging in foods and clothing. Those under 12 years of age and over. This will make the judging easier for the younger members.

4-H Camp
To date there are 54 boys and 54 girls signed up for 4-H Camp. There is still room for 15 or 20 more. We will still accept more as the quota is not filled.

Camp activities will consist of swimming, recreation, handicraft, gun safety, vesper services, candle lighting, a cook-out (we will cook our supper over a camp fire), baseball, volleyball and lots of good food and fun.

We can also use more adult leaders. Leaders are not charged a camp fee.

Family Living Committee
A Family Living Committee was organized to study the family living needs, how the Extension Service can be of help and what phases to develop in the year ahead. Members of the committee are: Mrs. Paul Read, Sedalia Garden Club Council; Mrs. Mary Maddox, home economics teacher; Miss Roseanne Dugan, Pettis County Welfare Office; Mrs. Paul Stephens, Farm and Home Planning; Mrs. Harry Joe Runge, Young Couples School; Mrs. Robert Knight, Young Homemakers School; Mrs. Virgil Quint, Pettis County Farm Bureau; Mrs. Virgil Ellis, 4-H Council; S. E. Boyle, Sedalia Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Raymond Wasson, Extension Club Council; Mrs. Karl Darby, Agricultural Extension Council. Mrs. Wasson will serve as chairman and Mrs. Maddox as secretary. The next meeting of the group will be Wednesday, July 26.

Home Floriculture and Flower Show

The fourth annual Home Floriculture and Flower Show Practice Short Course will be held July 11-13, 1961, New Agriculture Building, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.

The program starts with registration at 8 a.m. July 11, Room 2-34. Mrs. Fred Siebert, president of Columbia Garden Club, will preside at the morning session starting at 8:30.

How to Freeze Vegetables

Freezer storage space usually is limited. Freeze the green vegetables and the family favorites which freeze well, but do not can satisfactorily, and are not easily purchased.

Choose fresh, tender, vegetables right from the garden. Wash and prepare as for table use. Vegetables that are protected by pods may not need to be washed. Vegetables should be sorted as to size and maturity. Blanching time varies with the size of the pieces.

Heat the vegetable in boiling water to slow or stop the action of the enzymes which would cause the frozen vegetable to discolor, toughen, and develop off-flavors. This heating also wilts or softens the vegetables so they pack easier.

Use a blancher or a large kettle with a lid and to hold the vegetables, a fine mesh wire basket or some cheese cloth. For each pound of prepared vegetable use one gallon boiling water. Begin counting time as soon as the vegetable is under boiling water and the lid back on the kettle. Keep the heat high and blanch the exact time given in the directions for each vegetable. Be accurate as underblanching will not destroy the enzyme and overblanching may cause the vegetable to be like a warmed over vegetable when served.

Pumpkins, sweetpotatoes, and winter squash, may be completely cooked instead of blanched. Tomatoes for juice may be simmered just until they can be put through a strainer.

Cool quickly and thoroughly. This is very important for high quality frozen vegetables. Place the vegetables under a stream of cold water or in a kettle of cold water immediately after removing them from the blanching kettle. It is ideal to use cold running water and then place the cooled vegetable in ice water—one pound for each pound of vegetable. Cool until the vegetable feels cold to the hand—about the same length of time as for blanching. Remove from the water, drain to drip dry, package. Seal, label, and freeze. Freeze the vegetable as soon as possible, as delay in any step of the process from garden to freezer will lower the quality of the vegetable.

The dry pack is recommended because it is easier for freezing and serving than the brine pack.

Freeze Green Beans
Beans—snap (green or wax)—Select young, tender, stringless, beans that snap when broken. Wash thoroughly, remove stem end and cut in one, two, three or four-inch pieces or slice lengthwise into strips for French snap beans. Blanch for three minutes. Chill, drain and package, leaving ½-inch head space. Seal, label and freeze.

Syrup for Frozen Fruit
A syrup is generally best for fruit for dessert use.

A 40 per cent syrup (three cups sugar and four cups water) is preferable for most fruits. A 30 per cent (two cups sugar and four cups water) syrup may be desirable for mild flavored fruits to prevent covering up their flavor. Use 50 per cent (four cups sugar and four cups water) for sour fruits.

Dissolve the sugar in hot or cold water and chill. It is usually preferable to make the syrup the day before and keep it in the refrigerator. It takes one-half to two-thirds cup of syrup for a pint package of fruit. Slice the fruit directly into the cold syrup. All the fruit should be covered with the syrup. Pieces not covered may discolor or lose flavor. A piece of crumpled water-resistant locker paper may be placed on top, before closing the container, to keep fruit under the syrup.

Sprinkle the dry sugar over the prepared fruit and gently mix with a large spoon or pancake turner until sugar is dissolved and some juice is drawn out. Pour into container and add a piece of crumpled water resistant wrapping material just before sealing to hold fruit down in the juice.

If some non-caloric sweetener is used instead of sugar, add it directly to the liquid or cut fruit.

New Security Branch For Britain's Navy

LONDON (AP)—Lord Carrington, the first lord of the admiralty said Wednesday he is establishing a new security branch to prevent recurrence of recent leaks of royal navy secrets.

A government committee criticized admiralty security after a trial earlier this year disclosed a Soviet spy ring had access to some of the Navy's most prized secrets.

Meeting Set For Friday By Red Cross

Representatives from seven mid-Missouri county Red Cross Chapters will converge on Sedalia, Friday for the first in a series of ten specialized meetings scheduled here by ARC Field Representative Alvin I. Carmody, of the St. Louis Mid-West regional office.

This first meeting will be oriented to acquaint public information officers of the Pettis, Johnson, Henry, Hickory, Benton, Lafayette and Saline County chapters with the objectives of Red Cross work. Coinciding with his announcement of the first regional meeting, Pettis County Chapter Chairman Maurice Hogan publicly announced the appointment of John C. Findley, of Sedalia, as local public information officer.

Friday's opening session begins at 9 a.m. with host chairman Maurice Hogan welcoming visiting officials for the full day of activities in the community room of the First State Savings Association. Presiding over public information discussions will be Philip Gaddis, St. Louis Mid-West Office American Red Cross Public Information officer. Field Representative Carmody will assist in

Cold Soup Is Ideal for a Hot Day

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

One of Summer's best cold soups is adapted from the Turkish cuisine. When this soup was served at our house recently, our most sophisticated tasters found it extremely refreshing.

The original Turkish recipe combines cucumbers and yogurt. This version combines cucumbers with buttermilk and sour cream; for a flavor fillip, chives are added.

Unless you grow chives yourself, you may be interested to know that this flavor-enhancer is now available in fresh-frozen form. The chives come chopped in small plastic containers. We find these wonderfully useful to have on hand for cold soups, salads, sandwiches and canapes. You can easily remove the amount of chives needed for a particular dish and put the remainder back in the freezer at once, ready for the next dish. No waste!

TURKISH-STYLE CUCUMBER SOUP

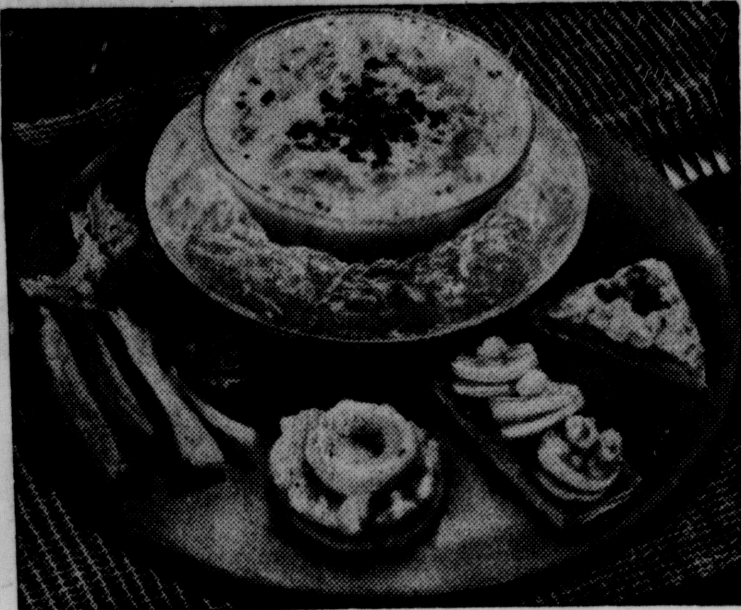

- 1 medium-size cucumber
- 2 tablespoons chopped chives
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1½ teaspoons prepared mustard
- 1 cup commercially prepared sour cream
- 1 quart buttermilk

Choose a firm cucumber with small seeds; pare; coarsely grate directly into mixing bowl. Add chives, sugar, salt, mustard and sour cream; gradually stir in buttermilk. Serve icy-cold garnished with extra chives. Makes six servings.

Deer-Bike Collision Takes Life of Deer

IONIA, Mich. (AP) — Irving Wolverton, 24, of Palo, Mich., killed a deer with his bicycle Wednesday.

Wolverton told police he was riding his bicycle in the darkness when a deer dashed onto the road and they collided. Wolverton suffered severe cuts and bruises. The deer was killed. A conservation officer picked up the remains.

CUCUMBER COOL: This cold soup features buttermilk and sour cream along with cucumbers and chopped chives.

Perseverance Pays; Block Is Shattered

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, Ga. (AP) — Marine judo expert Sgt. Carl Freudenberg of Parris Island, S.C., broke his hand instead of a concrete block during an exhibition before a sunshine festival audience.

At the exhibition Tuesday, Freudenberg was supposed to have shattered the block with a slap of the edge of the hand.

The marine, undaunted, had the hand treated, then returned for the next show and shattered the two-inch building block—with his other hand.

Lauren Bacall Wants to Look At New Husband

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I don't want to look at anyone else but him."

That's what actress Lauren Bacall said Wednesday when photographers asked her to turn away from her new husband, actor Jason Robards Jr., to pose for pictures.

The couple, married at Ensenada, Mexico, Tuesday, sipped champagne and nibbled cake at a movie set news conference.

They previously had been turned down for marriage licenses in Las Vegas, Nev., and in several European countries because

Thrill Films Making Mint For Director

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

LONDON (AP) — Hollywood would call Col. Jimmy Carreras a Picadilly Sam Katzman.

By any name he is one of the top successes of the English film world, having built an empire out of vampires, Frankenstein's and assorted monsters.

Col. Carreras—the rank is real—is founder and ruler of Hammer Films, which picked up where Katzman and other sharp Hollywood operators left off.

It all started with "The Curse of Frankenstein" in 1955. Carreras plucked the old bogymen out of public domain and made the film for 100,000 pounds—$280,000. Thrill-seekers, especially in the United States, flocked to it. Profit: $1.4 millions.

Knowing a good thing when he sees it, Carreras wheeled out Dracula, the Mummy, the Abominable Snowman and other horrors to vast success. He has deals to produce films for both Columbia and Universal. He maintains control by financing half of each movie.

Carreras operates from Hammer House in the film district of Wardour Street. I found him at his desk, bronzed from a Riviera holiday.

Like most film executives, he enjoyed talking.

"We make six a year. If four really. The title is the thing. When you have a title like Frankenstein or Dracula, that's bigger than anyone you could put in it. "Names don't mean a thing, except in the United States.

"We've got a formula for our pictures. We make them in color, with class, but sensibly priced. They're paid for in the British market; the rest of the world is like squeezing the orange.

"We make six a year. If four hit, we're lucky. They'll pay for the others.

"Our story readers have a list of do's and don'ts. They can look on the list and see if a script is for us.

"Above all, we watch the price. If a picture goes 300 pounds over budget, there is a major inquest."

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My sister-in-law gets on my nerves with her constant bragging. Last night did it. We had several couples to our home and Della started to brag about her dog. She said he sings. I took her aside and told her she'd better not make such statements because people would think she had lost a bolt. She became very annoyed and said "I don't claim Spotty will sing just anything. He has favorites. He just loves to sing along with Mitch."

Now I've heard lots of stories about smart dogs, Ann, but I have never heard of a dog that sings. Will you please tell me if this is possible? I'm beginning to think maybe I'm the one who is nuts. — TODDIE

Dear Toddie: Apparently Mitch Miller's magical spell has sloped over into the animal kingdom. It's very possible that Spotty is singing along with Mitch. Don't knock it if you haven't heard it.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I live in a four-family flat. We pay $150 a month rent. The other two apartments are occupied by people we rarely see. The landlord and his wife live in the fourth flat.

The landlord and his wife leave almost every weekend for hunting, fishing, skiing, bowling, bridge tournaments, — whatever appeals to them.

If my husband and I didn't cut the grass and water the lawn nobody would. The year before last we spent a lot of time (and some money) on the lawn and it looked lovely. Last summer we decided to do nothing and see what happened. Well, the grass grew so tall we were ashamed to have friends over.

This summer we are faced with the same problem. Please don't suggest that we move. We love our apartment and the location is ideal. What's the solution? — J. D.

Dear J. D.: Usually it's the responsibility of the landlord to keep the grounds up. Speak to him about hiring a yardman or offer to do it in exchange for a reduction in the rent.

If he is not amenable, continue to keep the lawn up and stop aggravating yourself. Consider it part of the price you must pay to live in that lovely well-located apartment.

Dear Ann Landers: This is the third letter I have written to you. I have asked each time that you publish my letter in the paper, but you have not done it. I'm beginning to think that you don't use letters from people who write. You just make them up out of your head.

I will try one more time. This boy that I like sits in front of me in history, English and math. How can I get him to notice me? — THIRD ATTEMPT

Dear Third: It isn't possible to print every letter in the paper. If it's advice you want, and not just the fun of seeing your letter in print, you can get a personal reply in the mail. Just send a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Now about the boy. If you sit in front of him in history, English and math class, he HAS noticed you but he is probably not interested.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experience of thousands of teenagers if you write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

House Downs Move to Up Membership

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders have quietly but firmly rejected all proposals to increase the size of the House in order to prevent some states from losing seats because of population declines.

The effect of the decision may be that the House elected in 1962 may contain dozens of members chosen in statewide rather than district voting.

Of the 25 states whose congressional delegations will increase or decrease in the next House if the size of that body is not enlarged, only 13 have enacted redistricting laws. In two of those 13 states the legislative action has not become final.

The others presumably are waiting to see what Congress will do, or have encountered political obstacles in their redistricting efforts. Among them are Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Illinois, with a total of 63 seats in the new Congress if the size of the House is not changed. All may be elected in statewide contests.

Several plans to save some states from losing seats have been proposed in the House, but the current outlook is that none of them will get anywhere.

One proposal, by Rep. Frank Chelf, D-Ky., would increase the size of the House starting in 1963 from the presently fixed 437 to 469. That would not protect any state from losing seats, and at the same time keep the size of congressional districts relatively uniform, would require an increase to more than 500 members.

House leaders consider that number too unwieldy. Congressional leaders believe that once the state legislatures are convinced that there will be no action by Congress, they will move swiftly with redistricting legislation rather than take political risks which normally accompany state-at-large congressional elections.

In states losing seats, all members must run at-large unless their legislatures enact redistricting laws. In those gaining seats, only the added seats would be contested on an at-large basis in the absence of redistricting.

Restraint Plea Asked In Jessel Paternity Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A court hearing is scheduled July 14 on actress Joan Tyler's request for an order restraining George Jessel from disposing of his assets pending trial of her paternity suit against him.

Miss Tyler, 27, requested the order Wednesday. She contended that Jessel's permanent place of business is in New York and that the 63-year-old entertainer may transfer his holdings out of California, causing her and her unborn child "irreparable damage."

Miss Tyler's suit doesn't say when the child is expected, but she said out of court that she expects the baby in December. Jessel denies paternity. A hearing on the suit itself is set for July 27.

Actions of British Pound Closely Scrutinized In US

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Amid all the international and domestic crises of the day the pound sterling is going through a perennial one of its own almost lost in the crowd.
But U.S. financial and exporting circles are eyeing it closely.
The British pound is still the top drawer currency for a large section of the world. And Britain's recurring economic turmoil since the war have had reactions in the United States.
The London stock market's jitters this week reflect the trouble.

And the talk of what the Queen's government may do to straighten things out includes many possibilities that could affect American business—and to some extent employment and agriculture.
Example: If the British go in for austerity again, many American goods the English could label luxury will lose all or part of their market there. If London returns to import restrictions, the effect would show up even more quickly in the production schedules of many American firms and affect some Yankee jobs.
Example: If Britain starts an active drive, through subsidization or price shaving, to boost its exports to the United States, the clamor here for Congressional protection would rise even higher than today. And it's been on the increase this year.

The pound sterling is suffering very much the same ailment as that of the Yankee dollar last fall. Then our gold was flowing overseas and some Europeans were convinced we would have to devalue the dollar.
We didn't. And the British seem just as sure they won't have to devalue the pound again, either, despite its sinking spell early this week.

The pound's ailment is this: The sterling area's gold and currency reserves have fallen so far this year by $549 million, compared with a rise of $157 million in the first five months of 1960.
The reserve is now $2.77 billion, lowest since February, 1960. The reserve has been falling steadily for five months because of a deficit in the balance of payments—the same thing that caused our gold loss last fall.
The British have been paying more for their imports than they got for their exports. Also, a lot of the short term investment money that moved to London last year when the dollar was taking its licks has been leaving the United Kingdom for greener pastures in other lands.

The United States has cut its balance of payments deficit this year—exports have boomed, while imports have been restrained. U.S. government spending abroad can wipe this trade surplus out, however.
U.S. financial circles expect the London government to take action soon to try to halt the drain there. Whether the bolstering of the pound will be at the expense of American trade remains to be seen.
Japanese spelling of jujitsu is "jujutsu." "Ju" means "soft," probably from the fact that no weapons are used, and "jutsu" means "art."

An All-in-One Dish for Supper

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

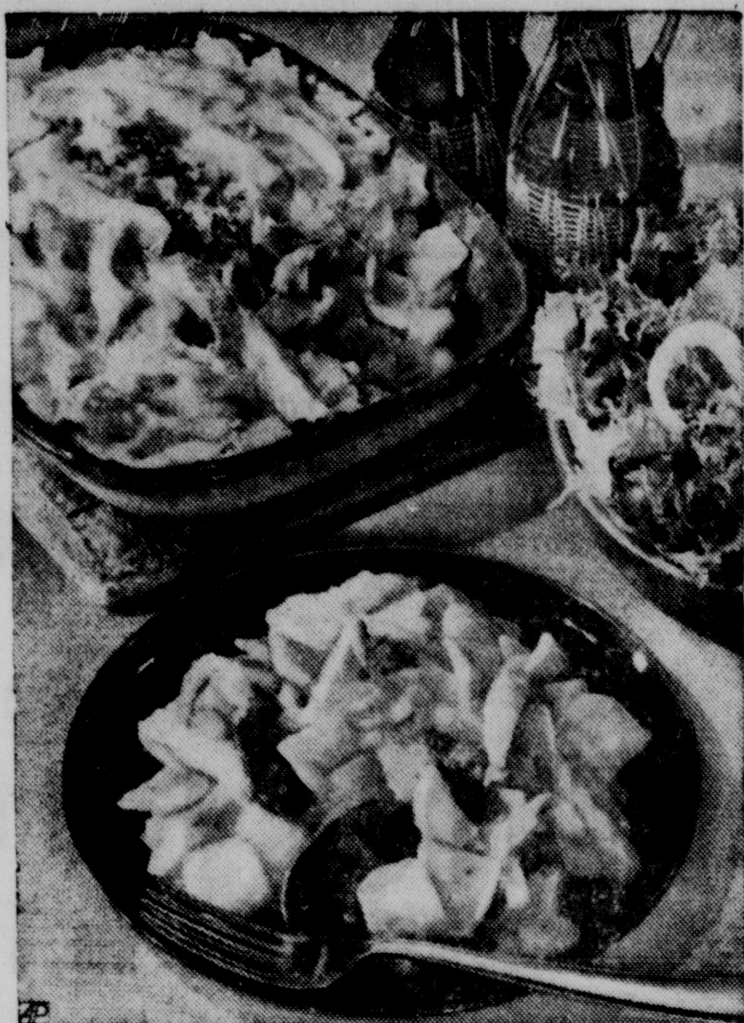

Do you like an all-in-one main dish for an informal supper to which you ask a few guests? Then this new recipe for Chicken a la Tetrassini may interest you. Add a big salad bowl and maybe garlic bread, dessert and coffee, and you'll have a good meal.

When we tried this recipe, we cooked a roasted chicken in water to cover in Chinese style — boiling it hard for 15 minutes and then letting the bird stay in the covered kettle for 1 hour before draining. This way we had lots of broth that wasn't rich enough for soup, so we used it instead of water for cooking the packaged sliced potatoes called for.

Chicken a la Tetrassini

6 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
3 cups packaged sliced potatoes
3 tablespoons each butter, flour
1-3 cups chicken broth
2-3 cup heavy cream
1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
White pepper and nutmeg
1 can (6 ounces) sliced mushrooms (drained)
3 cups fork-size pieces cooked chicken
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Paprika

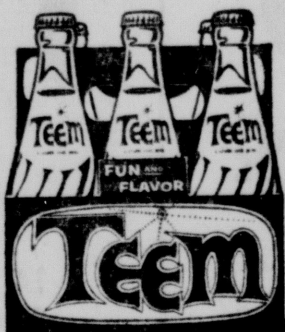

In a large covered saucepan bring the water, salt and potatoes to a boil; simmer 20 minutes, drain. In a medium saucepan over low heat melt the butter and blend in the flour; add chicken broth and cream and cook and stir constantly until thickened. Stir in monosodium glutamate and pepper and nutmeg to taste. Mix half the sauce with the drained potatoes and mushrooms; turn Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 20 minutes or until hot all through; brown top if necessary under broiler. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

CHICKEN A LA TETRAZZINI uses packaged sliced potatoes along with chicken and a rich sauce to make a delicious main course.

TV Favorites Picked By Youths

By Eugene Gilbert
President, Gilbert Youth
Research Co.

If you are an average teenager, a television production with these ingredients would be certain to catch your eye:

Jack Paar as master of ceremonies of a show featuring Loretta Young and Robert Stack, with Red Skelton and Carol Burnett swapping gags between songs by Perry Como and Dinah Shore and Durwood Kirby handling the announcements.

The combination might be somewhat unwieldy, but according to a survey of 951 high school students across the land those are teenagers' favorite TV specialists.

The fictitious show wouldn't please all, however.

Our survey also showed teenagers do have their favorites, but aside from a solid preference for mystery shows and two standout personalities (Como and Skelton) the favorites in each category won less than 30 per cent of the votes.

Here are the results, with the percentage of the teen-age vote each polled:

Show — "The Untouchables" (10 per cent); type of show—mystery (33 per cent); variety show — Ed Sullivan (23 per cent); western — "Maverick" (14 per cent); comedy — Red Skelton show (20 per cent); mystery — "Thriller" (15 per cent); sports show — football (17 per cent).

Personality — Jack Paar (12 per cent); male singer — Perry Como (36 per cent); female singer — Miss Dinah Shore (28 per cent); comedian — Red Skelton (31 per cent); comedienne — Carol Burnett (21 per cent); actor—Robert Stack (7 per cent); actress — Loretta Young (18 per cent); announcer — Durwood Kirby (8 per cent).

No Winner Takes All
Significantly, 52 per cent of the boys and 54 per cent of the girls preferred some show other than the ones which wound up in the top six; and 13 per cent of the teen-agers specified no all-around favorite show.

A vote of 16 per cent of the boys was what put "Untouchables" on top. The crime show won the approval of only 4 per cent of the girls, whose favorite was a three-way tie (7 per cent each) between "Route 66," "Twilight Zone" and "Alcoa Presents."

There were more definite opinions as to the favorite type of show.

Only 10 per cent, the smallest group, preferred something other than variety, western, comedy, mystery or sports—and told why: "Documentary type shows are more interesting to me," said 18-year-old Leroy Sturtz of Cumberland, Md. "They don't use the same plot over and over again."

Beverly Robin, 16, of Los Angeles, said she preferred news and current affairs shows; and 17-year-old Kirsten Nielsen of Austin, Minn., said "spectaculars usually are the best done and are especially interesting."

Princess Grace Is Making Pilgrimage

LOURDES, France (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco arrived Wednesday at this Roman Catholic shrine in southern France with a pilgrimage from her home principality.

The princess, former movie star Grace Kelly, interrupted a yacht cruise to be with the group.

Prince Rainier remained aboard the yacht Christina with a party including ship owner Aristotle Onassis and opera singer Maria Callas.

Democratic Party's Debt Being Reduced

NEW YORK (AP)—John M. Bailey, the national Democratic chairman, said Wednesday the national committee has raised $3 million since January, reducing the party's deficit to $900,000.

He predicted that the remaining portion of the deficit, incurred during last year's presidential election campaign, would be wiped out by the end of 1961.

ally are the best done and are especially interesting."

Ellen Siegler, 16, of New Rochelle, N. Y., speaking for the 40 per cent of the girls who preferred mystery shows, had this comment:

"They hold my interest without taxing my brain."

Boys Go For Sports
In many categories the winner was not the predominant choice of both boys and girls. A strong minority of one or the other provided the winning margin for the favorite show, as mentioned, plus the favorite western, favorite sports show, favorite type of show and favorite announcer.

Eight per cent of the boys and 6 per cent of the girls selected Hugh Downs as their favorite announcer. But 9 per cent of the girls plus a 7 per cent minority of the boys put Durwood Kirby on top by a percentage point.

The favorite western, "Maverick," also won by a whisker.

Most of the boys (16 per cent) favored "Gunsmoke," but enough of them (10 per cent) liked "Maverick" to put it ahead with the backing of 17 per cent of the girls.

"Gunsmoke," "Wagon Train" and "Bonanza" wound up in a second place tie with 13 per cent each.

Not surprisingly, 30 per cent of the boys picked sports as their favorite type of show, but only 1 per cent of the girls agreed. Mystery show won out with a combination of 40 per cent (girls) and 25 per cent (boys).

As for the favorite sports show, the girls apparently weren't too concerned. Sixty per cent of them said they had no favorite, but if they had to watch sports, most of them (11 per cent) preferred bowling.

Askren Presents Program Before Early Optimists

Jim Askren presented the program Wednesday morning at the Breakfast Optimist Club which was a recording by Dr. Preston Bradley, pastor of the People's Church in Chicago, entitled "Selling Your Best Self to Others."

The meeting was presided over by Al Allgaier, immediate past president, in the absence of the president, Cliff Barr, who is on vacation.

Invocation was by Dr. Venton Goodnight and Gerald Cecil led the singing with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

A discussion was held on the blankets and pillows being sold by the club, with reports being given by the different members. The club will have two booths at the Sidewalk Bazaar Monday and Tuesday of next week, where they will sell blankets and pillows, one in front of Western Auto on Main Street and the other on Ohio in front of the Gordon Building.

A Catholic Radio Station Is Bombed

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Bombs damaged a radio station operated by Canadian Roman Catholic priests and a priest's residence Tuesday night. Catholic miners called to defend the buildings then clashed with Communists.

The homemade dynamite bomb blew in doors of the buildings and shattered windows. The radio station broadcast a running account of the incidents and called on the miners to defend the buildings.

How can I be sure?"
Doubtful!"

Nothing could be simpler, my boy. She is probably a talent scout for matrimony—and has picked you as her number one target—if:
Her father keeps offering you his car so you can take her riding.
She always carries a needle and thread in her purse—just in case you should need a button sewn on.
She would rather drink beer at a ball game with you than go dancing at a night club with Cary Grant.

She starts making remarks such as, "Some girls like real expensive engagement rings, but I think that's a waste of money, don't you?"
When you tell a funny story at a party, she chuckles even before you reach the punch line.
She begins to take a kindly interest in your money. For example: "You're too generous for your own good, dear. You didn't have to tip the waiter that much."
Instead of asking for the latest romantic novel at the lending library, she checks out the latest cook book.

She proudly shows you a new burn on her finger and says, "I got it in the kitchen last night trying out a new recipe." (Where does she think you thought she got it anyway—sliding down a rope ladder from the Brooklyn Bridge?)
Your hair is falling out, but instead of kidding you, she says, "I just love your high forehead. It's a sign of intellect."

You're a bit on the plump side but, instead of advising you to go on a diet or visit a gym, she sighs, "My, you're so much fun to snuggle with. I hate skinny men."

When you admire her new frock, she shrugs and says modestly, "It's just a little thing I made myself."

She can't stand the cigars other men smoke, but "yours are different somehow—they smell so manly."

Instead of a $1.39 necktie, she buys you an expensive fishing rod for your birthday.

Brother, if this is the way any girl in your life is acting, it's time to run for the hills or walk to the marriage license bureau—depending on how strong you feel.

The American Indian's Dilemma---Money

By JERRY BENNETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Uncle Sam and the American Indian are being tied together in financial knots by one of the trickiest domestic problems on the New Frontier.

Officials of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, congressmen, private welfare groups and the Indians themselves don't know how they will get loose from one of the most involved controversies they have encountered in several years. Nor will they hazard a guess on the amount of time it will take them to completely free themselves of the financial entanglements.

The trouble really started in 1953. A Congressional resolution then was passed to free the Indians from federal supervision "at the earliest possible time." That would eliminate federal controls on 285,600 Indians living on about 300 reservations and special government aid to some 59,000 living off reservations.

The resolution was put into effect to raise the Indians' status from that of "wards of the government" to full-fledged citizens and save the United States more than $100 million annually in health, education, welfare and other service benefits now given to Indians.

But all the resolution has done thus far is raise war-whoops of dismay from Indians and non-Indians alike who want to abandon the "termination" policy called for in the resolution.

The Indians, or at least some of them, now have drawn up a counter resolution. At a national conference, 420 participants representing 67 of the 200 or so Indian tribes in the U.S. opposed the termination policy.

The resolution says, in part: "Instead of social and economic betterment, the Indians are offered homelessness and deeper poverty than they have ever known."

The opponents of the termination policy reason this way:

Many Indians have lived off government handouts all of their lives and therefore would not know how to make a living on their own.

It would be unfair to subject Indians to state taxes which they cannot afford and to state laws of which they have little knowledge.

Indians would lose land acquired through treaties with the U.S. Most of the opposition to the termination policy has been generated on this last point. Although many Indians are poor, others have become wealthy through oil, timber and mineral-rich property—and they don't want to lose it.

The U.S. holds all reservation land in trust for the Indians. The inhabitants are not required to pay taxes on either the land itself or the income derived from it. On some reservations, the Indians have collective rights to the land. On others, they have individual holdings. Many of the reservations include both types of ownership.

Either system can bring in tax-free fortunes to the occupants each year, especially if oil and timber are involved. A few Indians take in as much as $50,000 annually, report officials of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

To further complicate this already complicated situation, there are some Indians who favor termination for the same reason that their blood brothers are against it—money. Indians favoring termination generally live off the reservations but they have an interest in trust lands because of their tribal memberships. Most of them want to sell out now and enjoy the tax-free proceeds.

Since the termination resolution was passed, federal control has been removed from 11 reservations, the largest holdings being those of the Menominee tribe in Wisconsin, last April 30.

Since then, each Menominee's interest in common property is represented by alienable securities. For the first time, he must pay taxes and doctor bills and adhere to state laws limiting his right to fish and hunt.

Some of the Menominees have had difficulty finding jobs; medical care is scarce.

Legislation is pending in Washington to ease such transition periods. But much could depend on the findings of a five-man task force which has been querying Indians from coast-to-coast during the past three months on termination policy. The force is expected to make its recommendations to Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall before the end of the month.

In addition to pacifying the financially stable Indians, the force also seeks ways to provide more job and educational opportunities for others.

In contrast to past action, bureau officials explain that federal control will be kept on each reservation until its Indians can care for themselves.

John A. Carver, assistant secretary of the interior overseeing the Indian Bureau, says:

"We want the Indian people to have full legal, economic and social opportunity but we do not espouse the notion that this can be accomplished by simply chopping off the program at a certain date."

Says another expert: "For the last 100 years, one of our principal aims has been to get out of business. It has been costing us more money to do it each year." This year, $210 million has been budgeted, $40 million more than last.

When Hamburger Is 'Kromeski'

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Even cooks who insist their families like nothing better than "just plain meat and potatoes" perk up their ears, we notice, when a new way of serving ground beef is mentioned.

So here, ladies, is something to try with hamburger meat.

The first thing that attracted us about the recipe was the name: kromeski. You can spell the word kromeski, if you like, and believe it or not it's in Webster. There a kromeski is defined as "a kind of croquette wrapped in bacon or cow's udder, dipped in batter, and fried." We wrap our kromeskis in bacon!

The friend who gave us this recipe tells us that her freezer always holds a small tray of kromeskis ready to be dipped and fried. Her youngsters consider them very partyish, and she serves them in frankfurter rolls, plain or toasted, with go-alongs of sliced tomato, onion rings, and bread-and-butter pickles.

KROMESKIS

- 2 pounds ground chuck beef
- 2 eggs
- 2 sandwich-size slices bread (each 1/4-inch thick)
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons catchup
- 1 to 3 teaspoons aromatic bitters
- 12 slices bacon
- Batter
- Vegetable shortening (for frying)

Mix the meat and eggs. Soak the bread (including the crusts) in water and squeeze out the moisture. Add the bread to the meat mixture along with the salt, pepper, catchup, and aromatic bitters. Mix lightly but thoroughly. Form into 12 sausage-shaped patties. Wrap a slice of bacon around each. Heat 1/2 cup shortening (or more) in a heavy skillet on top of the range or in an electric skillet set at 375 degrees. Dip the kromeskis in batter and fry in

Focus On Health

Doctors Learn Ulcers May Be Increasing In Children

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ulcers in childhood, the chance you might get mumps a second time, the amount of food needed in hot weather are subjects for focus on health.

Ulcers in Children

Parents should be aware that ulcers are not only a possibility in their children—but may actually be on the increase.

In the past four years, there has been a noticeable increase in the incidence of ulcers in children between the ages of 4 and 12, says Dr. Jerome Weiss of New York City.

These children usually show a strong need for love, praise and appreciation—so limitless that it usually is not satisfied by the mild reassurances the child receives through the day. These children are usually well-behaved, tense and anxious to please.

Emotional control is needed not only by the child with an ulcer, but by his parents, teachers and others who deal with him. Constant correcting and demanding creates stress and tension in the home that leads to ulcers.

Repeat Performance

If you get mumps on one side, can you get them on the other?

Probably yes, answers a doctor-expert for the American Medical Association. But it isn't very likely. If a mumps virus strikes one side, there is some general body protection against new attacks, but not as much as there would be in a case of measles, for instance. But several virus agents or bacteria can cause the swelling of mumps, and diagnosis of a first or a second attack may be in error.

Hot Weather Diet

The idea that you need to eat less in hot weather may be wrong especially if you're working.

U.S. Army researchers found that eight healthy young men working outdoors under a hot sun, or in the shade needed more food and calories than men working in cooler climates.

The increased calories needed were probably due to the heat load which increased blood action, sweating and energy use due to a raised body temperature.

Middle-aged Diet

A diet high in protein and low in saturated fats controlled both weight and cholesterol in middle-aged men who tested it, a doctor says.

Cholesterol is a waxy, fatty substance, found in food and blood, which some experts believe causes narrowing or hardening of the arteries and subsequent heart attacks.

Dr. Norman Joliffe of the New York Department of Health tested a diet low in beef, lamb and pork but accenting fish, seafood, veal and fowl, on men aged 50-59.

Usual high protein diets use beef, lamb and pork, but these diets often show a rebound of cholesterol levels after an initial drop.

For 111 men who used the diet, 97 were successful in losing weight too. Calorie intake ranged from 1,350 to 2,000, and the average weight loss was 19 pounds. Age weight loss was 19 pounds.

Fryers Crowd Beef for Top Market Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Supermarket advertisements take on a more normal summer look this week with frying chickens crowding beef for top billing.

Low prices for steaks and roasts have enabled beef to force chicken aside in recent weeks, but this week chickens are tops in New England, the Middle Atlantic States and Midwest. Quotations of 33-36 cents a pound at one chain's New York metropolitan area stores are 5 to 6 cents less than a year ago.

Steaks still are the No.1 attraction in many areas. Sirloin and porterhouse are on the bill in the East, round steaks in the Detroit area and rib steaks around Chicago.

Leg of lamb is featured in New England and the Midwest. Fish items are confined largely to scallops and halibut.

Egg prices continue to climb. Advances run from 2 to 4 cents a dozen this week, leaving prices 4 to 8 cents above year-ago levels.

A considerable number of fresh vegetables and fruits are available. New arrivals include New Jersey carrots, onions and peppers; New York currants, strawberries, broccoli and spinach; Connecticut cabbage, cauliflower and lettuce; Pennsylvania beans and cauliflower; South Carolina watermelons and regular plum-type tomatoes from Virginia.

Best buys among vegetables are beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, celery, endive, escarole, miscellaneous leafy cooking greens including spinach, radishes, squash and green onions.

Good buys include beans, corn, cucumbers, eggplant, mushrooms, onions, parsley, peas, watercress, and peppers.

It's delightful, delicious, It's de-lovel
